Great Eastern Clothing House
FOR ONE WEEK ONLY.

AS A MARK of appreciation for the very liberal patronage we have received from the ladies of Duluth and surrounding towns since we have opened business, and wishing to carry their good will and wishes into our handsome new store, we will continue our Dress Pattern Sale for the remainder of this week only. Aug. 10th, we will give to every man, woman or child visiting our Men's, Boys' and Children's Department and purchasing clothing to the amount of $5, or over, a handsome Dress Pattern FREE. This gift only applies to purchases of clothing, and does not include sales in Furnishing Goods and Hat Departments.

Our object also in making this very liberal offer is to aid us in reducing our present stock of clothing, as the time grows near for our removal to our new store, and we have positively decided not to carry a dollar's worth to the new building, which we hope to occupy by Sept. 15.

MOTHERS: For you this is truly a rare opportunity. You know it is now only a short time until school opens. The boys will require new suits. Why not buy them now and receive a neat and pretty dress. The dress patterns can be seen in our east show windows.

To parties from Superior, West and South Superior and West Duluth visiting this sale and the amount of $5 we will pay railroad fare for round trip and give the Dress Pattern FREE.

A BIG BULL CARD.

Russia Will Allow no More Exportation of Its Rye or Rye Meal.

The Ukase Covering this Severe Action Goes at Once Into Effect.

It Will Have Effect in Nearly All European Countries and America.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 12.—The government today announced the immediate prohibition of the export of rye. It is the most extreme measure of the kind adopted since the Crimean war. The government says the friends of Russia will not suffer. The measure will affect only Austria and Germany, not England or France, which import only white wheat.

A great sensation was caused today in Berlin by the report of the Russian ukase against exports of rye and rye meal. Grain brokers have received private telegrams confirming the announcement. The latter, however, state that the prohibition dates from Aug. 27, not taking effect immediately as at first reported. Even this brief respite affords much relief. Values fell somewhat on the Berlin bourse when the news was received. Some restriction of export had been foreseen, but the total prohibition was a great surprise.

Herr Richter and the radicals are taking advantage of this episode to renew their demands for an abolition of the German duties on grain, thus enabling the poor with whom rye is an important article of food, to buy imported grain in its place. Many newspapers join in the cry of free grain but Chancellor Von Caprivi shows no sign of yielding to the clamor. The full effects of the Russian ukase will not be felt, however, for a few weeks. Rye cannot be obtained from other countries to take the place of the Russian product and the rise in the price of breadstuffs which is certain to occur will increase the feeling in favor of radical measures by the government and strengthen the hands of the opposition.

There is no chance of Chancellor Von Caprivi's complying with the radical request for reduced grain duties. Germany's importation of rye this year has been from Russia. The ukase will seriously affect Russia.

THANK GOD FOR AMERICA.

The English feel that way over Russia's prohibition of rye exports. The Daily News, commenting on the Russian rye ukase, says: "It is reassuring, may even be providential, to learn that the crops in the United States promise an exceptionally large yield. The American farmers are masters of the situation. It is to be hoped that they will use their strength mercifully. The making of corners in the necessities of life is never laudable, and in the present juncture it would be little short of fiendish."

The English newspapers generally are much disturbed by the ukase. The prevailing impression is that Great Britain will suffer extensively, though not so much as Germany and Austria.

NO MORE RECEIVER.

Street Railway Deal is Settled as it was Intended it Should be.

The trouble in the Duluth Street Railway company is settled and Sam Hill and A. S. Chase are no more connected with it. "Mr. Hill was paid the money for his fifth interest this morning," said Judge Stearns and his stock was conveyed to Mr. Hinchman of Philadelphia, who has long been a friend of Duluth. Mendenhall & Hoopes now own a fifth, Thomas Lowry a fifth, Mr. Hinchman a fifth, Mr. Hartley a fifth, and Mr. Mendenhall a twentieth. While Messrs. Willard, Macfarlane and myself own three-twentieths together. The whole thing, which the execution resembled today, has been no desire to have Mr. Lowry sell out, for he is an invaluable man to the company and his services have always been highly appreciated.

"The company is now without a president since Mr. Hill has left us, but we will get along nicely. We haven't decided on a manager yet and probably shall not for some little time. Mr. Lowry is in New York looking after financial matters for the concern. Yes, the receivership will probably be dissolved but there is no looking after a great hurry about it and I suppose it will be thirty days before that will happen."

Weighty Matters in Secret. BALTIMORE, Aug. 12.—The peoples party convention, reassembled today in secret session. It was stated that some publication might be given by the committee on publication later in the day.

WELSH LABOR.

The Importation of Those Welshmen for Thanksgiving at St. Louis.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 12.—Gen. Owen, the superintendent of immigration, was in this city yesterday and was interviewed relative to the Niederhousia plate workmen decision. He said there was no friction in the department. The assistant secretary and himself took one view, but as their position was in advance of the rules of the department the secretary very justly took another. The law governing the question of the importation of labor under contract permits the landing of skilled laborers, providing that it is proved that their importation here is for the purpose of establishing a new industry. Mr. Niederhousia had no objection to securing skilled plate workers in this country, but failed. He then asked if he could import skilled workmen. The assistant secretary and Gen. Owen took the ground that as the skilled workmen were not to be had here, he could import them, and in this they were correct. The department is anticipating a fact.

According to the rule, Mr. Niederhousia will have to import the men under the clause following them to establish a new industry.

POET'S SILENT PEN.

James Russell Lowell Dies Today at His Home; Other Days' Deaths.

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., Aug. 12.—James Russell Lowell, the poet, died this morning. He was born in this city Feb. 22, 1819. His literary work is too well known to require mention. His experience in public life was not extensive. Toward the close of 1874 Mr. Lowell was offered the post of that minister to Russia, which he declined, but in 1877 accepted that of minister to Spain, from which he was transferred in 1880 to that of minister to Great Britain. On the change of administration in 1885 he resigned this position and returned to the United States. The speech which he delivered in England was published in 1887 under the title of "Democracy and Other Addresses."

Though a life-long republican, Mr. Lowell supported the candidacy of Mr. Cleveland for re-election to the presidency in 1888. During the slavery agitation prior to the civil war, he was a prominent advocate for its abolition and had been equally outspoken in more recent years in urging the reform of the civil service.

He was educated at the bar, Mr. Lowell soon turned to literature, which he left only for the missions to Spain and England under Presidents Hayes and Arthur from '77 to '85. He is best known by "The Biglow Papers," though his published writings cover a very wide field, often touching upon social and political affairs. As minister to Spain and England he did credit to his country and secured a fuller recognition of American culture and literary fame.

Since Mr. Lowell's return from the English mission to his latest work, "Democracy and Other Addresses," a collection of his more important occasional addresses in England. He spent most of his time in declining years with his daughter, Mrs. Burnett, at Deerfoot farm, Southborough, Mass., and with his grandchildren, who he loved. Here he died his last literary work.

The Day's Neurology.

George O. Wood, proprietor of the New York Times, who has been ill with dysentery for some time, died this morning. Mr. Jones was born seventy-nine years ago at Poultney, Vt. It was in this village that Mr. Jones met Horace Greeley and the two boys formed a friendship that lasted to the end of their lives. They were employed together. Young Jones went to New York in 1833, and again met Greeley, but declined an offer of partnership in the Tribune. In 1851 he started the New York Times.

Col. G. A. Wood died at Chattanooga. In the battle of Mission Ridge he led a full regiment of volunteers. "Toledo"—The yacht Nellie C. with a pleasure party of four young men and six girls was caught in a sudden squall and capsized. Three of the girls were extricated from the cabin, but the remaining three, Lena Sanborn, Ellen Feely and Clara Sowds, were drowned.

LINE TO THE COAST.

The Milwaukee Road Expected to Decide on One of Its Annual Meetings.

It Will Tap Rich Agricultural Districts and the Boise Mining Fields.

Empire City in Oregon Will now Get Its Little Real Estate Boomlet.

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 12.—The coming year will witness many extensions of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road, notably the Black Hills line. This branch now penetrates to Rapid City and it is the policy of the company to extend it and reach the Pacific. This cost extension will be an important matter to be decided at the annual meeting.

The territory it proposes to traverse embraces the richest agricultural, mineral and timber lands in the West. The route is through Northern Wyoming, Southern Idaho, tapping the immense mineral fields in the two former and the fine agricultural and timber lands in the latter state. Empire City in Oregon is generally supposed to be the Pacific terminus. This is about half way between Portland and San Francisco, a place of some 500 people. The company also has an eye on the Yellowstone park country, and this extension will run along very close to the southern boundary. The southern entrance to the park is very much more convenient and easy than the northern entrance now in use.

The road has already acquired some interests in this direction and several lines now being surveyed eastward from Empire City westward from Boise City are believed in that country to be the work of the St. Paul road.

TO SOLICIT ORDERS.

The Rejuvenated Iron Car Company Will do That at Once.

S. G. Matthews, of New York, who has been instrumental in closing the deal whereby the old Minnesota Iron Car company became the Duluth Manufacturing company, will be here tomorrow morning with O. H. The company will start with a capital stock of about $100,000, of which $50,000 will be cash in bank and it will have assets in available city lots amounting to full $50,000. The company will immediately begin work starting men on the road at once, and already has work for some time. Probably by winter the company will employ 300 men and it will add many more later.

Corn and Cotton in Texas.

DALLAS, Texas, Aug. 12.—The cotton crop outlook in Indian Territory and Texas is very promising, and although the crop is ten days late the acreage is fully a per cent better. Corn and other crops in Brewster county in the Texas Panhandle are destroyed by grasshoppers.

Against Kilgore.

Judge Ensign has decided in favor of the defendant in the suit brought by A. M. Kilgore against F. H. Frisbee to quiet title to lots 26 and 27, block 5, Portland. The court holds further that the west line of the lots named is coincident with the east line of Third avenue east as occupied by the city for a public highway during twenty years. Kilgore, it will be remembered, fenced in a part of the avenue two years ago, claiming that he owned it.

The Question of a Company.

K company, Second regiment, M. N. G., held an important meeting last night, at which disbanding was denounced by a good number. It was finally decided that a committee be appointed to call on the city armory committee to find out if an armory for the company is to be built. If not, they will ask to be mustered out. The following form the committee: Lieut. Dodge, Sergt. Clark and Sergt. Bidwell.

Good Money After Bad.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 12.—Yesterday was the last day on which the stockholders of the Keystone bank could pay their assessments as levied by Comptroller Lacey. Only twenty-six out of nearly 200 stockholders paid the assessment. Out of the aggregate amount of $500,000, only $27,000 was paid. Receiver Vardley will immediately bring suit.

Let us Advertise Duluth!

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—During the twenty-four hours ending at midnight there were forty cases of heat prostration in the city, eleven of which proved fatal.

ALL KNEW HIM.

But Nobody Recognized the Boss Swindler Till Too Late.

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 12.—Louis F. Mortimer, the chief conspirator in the National Capital Building and Loan swindle of Chicago, is well known here, where his record is unsavory. His most notable achievement was the building and burning of a huge apartment house four years ago. It was very flimsily constructed and none of the building material was paid for. When nearly completed it mysteriously burned to the ground with $30,000 insurance on it. Mortimer got $15,000 insurance and fled before the neighbors knew what had happened.

While here he was known as Frank L. Mortimer. His father, W. H. Mortimer, still lives here. He was secretary of the Chicago concern for a time, but claims that he received only a small salary and that the business was honestly conducted so far as he knew. He left for Chicago last night with the avowed intention of giving himself up. He says he does not know where his son is.

Chicago—Attorney Evans who has been investigating the "association" methods has prepared the following statement, showing the receipts of the "firm." Total received, $86,000; paid to local agents, $31,000; loans and cash in bank, $13,000; Mortimer's commissions, $8,000; total, $86,000. Not accounted for, $23,000. In spite of Lawyer Evans' estimate Post Office Inspector Stuart says the stealings will foot up over $100,000. About sixty letters containing drafts, checks and postal notes were received for the association today.

Denver—The career of the association in Denver was short. Hundreds of victims are out of pocket and they see no hopes of getting even. The association established an agency in Denver last summer and of over sixty-five applications for loans, but one, of $500, was ever closed. It is safe to say that losses here will greatly exceed $25,000.

In Minneapolis Court.

Peter Murray, who was arrested last night for relieving a drunken man of a $250 gold watch, was held to the grand jury.

Willie Jones, arrested for stealing $1 from a trunk in the house of John Meinig, had his examination postponed. Sentence was suspended in the case of Pete Murray, convicted of drunkenness. John Caplis and C. Peterson, same offense, paid.

Bertha Hodges, a notorious woman, paid $12 for disorderly conduct.

Crawford-Douglas.

At 4 o'clock this afternoon Rev. C. C. Salter united in marriage James, son of Alex. Crawford and Miss Josephine Douglas, sister of Mrs. H. H. Bell, the ceremony being held at Mr. Bell's residence. A wedding feast will be served at 5 o'clock and this evening the couple will depart on the steamer Monarch for a two weeks' trip in the East. Both young people are well known in Duluth, being of families long resident here. Many friends wish them happiness.

THE MILLERS PLAY

Morton and his Aggregation Arrive in Duluth Today Ready for the Fray.

The Minneapolis Manager Can't Understand how Duluth's Club is on the Rocks.

Which is a Queer Something That Nobody Else can Understand Either.

Duluth was pleasantly surprised early this morning to find that the Minneapolis ball team had arrived and would appear against Duluth this afternoon. There were just nine men besides the new manager, A. G. Morton, Darling and Rutger, who have been expected to join the St. Louis team, have decided to rejoin Minneapolis and are expected here this afternoon. Pitcher Mitchell will play in the field today and Killen and Rogers will occupy the points.

Said Manager Morton this morning: "The Minneapolis club never disbanded and so the franchise did not revert to the association. The reports in the papers concerning the disbanding were simply a bluff of Hach's to bring people to time and put up for the club. He was ahead of the game financially, but he was afraid to go on any further. A syndicate of four of us got together yesterday and bought out Hach for $3000. Minneapolis will continue to the end of the season, as will also the other teams with the possible exception of Duluth. I was very much surprised when I arrived here to hear it said that the Duluth club was hard up, as it has been cracked up to us as the best ball town on the whole circuit. I don't understand it, for I hear that you have been having a good attendance. I am sure the other clubs must be surprised as much as Minneapolis to learn that there is danger of Duluth's dropping out. Milwaukee has offered to furnish a bond for $10,000 to guarantee that she will finish the season."

In further conversation it was learned that Mr. Morton does not think the game given to Duluth yesterday will be counted. He believes that it will be played off on Friday. If Duluth drops out another team will probably have to do the same, as there is no city very anxious to get into the association. But there isn't much likelihood of Duluth's dropping out. The Minneapolis club is dropping out. The Minneapolis club is dropping out. The Minneapolis club is dropping out.

WE'VE AT THE WORLD'S FAIR.

No part of the state of Minnesota, no subdivision of the republic—no little nook on the face of the globe—has more to gain or should take a deeper interest in the exposition at Chicago, than our own resourceful county of St. Louis. Rich in iron, wood and grain—the three essentials of the highest civilization and greatest material prosperity—rich in the possession of every facility for commerce and manufacture, and profusely rich in every element of landscape beauty and heroic grandeur, Duluth and the metallic realm about her stand first and foremost in the advantages to be secured.

Shall we, then, sit idle? or shall we not rather awake to the situation and assure to ourselves the achievements and recognition so justly ours that today merely await our claim? We have one-thirtieth the population of the state, and our share of the $100,000 proposed to be subscribed would be a little less than $3500. Let us not stop there, but treble that amount and raise $10,000 for a special St. Louis county exhibit in the space set apart for Minnesota. No other county has as yet developed any iron properties, and we should stand alone in our state department as the representative of this great interest while also distinguished as the sole exhibitor of Bessemer ores in the great northwest. Mining operations as carried on in this region could easily be displayed, and a diamond drill could be kept at work in hand, and does not believe a competent man could be placed in charge, and through such a medium a vast amount of descriptive literature could be scattered to the attention of the world. Such an undertaking is practical, indeed it is essential to our highest good, and the funds could be raised without a struggle from those to whose advantage would most accrue. While contributing our share to the general fund let us not forget ourselves, but our own special and distinguished interests, but like the chosen children of old let us "go to" and join hands in the common interest with a common pride.

EVERY ROUND WE'RE CLIMBING HIGHER.

The growth of St. Louis county shows a peculiarly zigzag journey. In 1850 it had 406 population; in 1855, 291; in 1870, 1561; in 1875, 3077; in 1880, 4504; in 1885, 20,453; and in 1890, 44,486. As St. Louis county and Duluth have over been almost synonymous terms so far as population is concerned these varying populations are easily explained. The war between '60 and '65 disturbed things and took our pioneers away, thus accounting for the first lull, while the Jay Cooke failure of '73, which stopped developments on the Northern Pacific road and crushed the whole country in a remorseless financial crisis, tells the other story. But our course is a straight one now right on to glory. By a proper recognition of our own resources we can make the population of our county 150,000 in the year 1900. Duluth though not so old as Superior is three times as large by the returns of the recent census, and that is about the proportion and symmetry we shall ever maintain.

The Superior Tribune, published for convenience in Duluth and mortgaged of necessity in St. Paul, is needlessly alarmed because The Herald has not taken up the cudgel against Truax & Co., in charge of the Fourth street work, whose affairs are in a somewhat confused condition. The Herald is too busy just now looking after the interests of our whole city to pause in its onward and upward journalistic career to discuss private lawsuits and malign private individuals. As the city is secured and has nothing to lose in the matter, The Herald takes the same interest in the alleged crookedness of Truax & Co. that it does in that of any other citizen, whether he happens to be connected with a newspaper or not, and will, as occasion requires, give it such attention as its importance demands. But the Tribune needn't wait and worry on our account, it may just as well die now if it wants to. The Herald will be working for Duluth long after the wicked cease from troubling and the Tribune is at rest.

Hon. Frederick Douglass, the distinguished representative of the colored race, has resigned his mission to the republic of Hayti, thus leaving an opening for Matthew Stanley Quay should the latter resign his senatorship "for the good of the order." Mr. Douglass is now 75 years old, and, though of vigorous frame, time begins to weigh heavily upon him. His resignation is purely for his own comfort and happiness, though incidentally he leaves an opening as suggested. He has a spacious suburban home surrounded by several acres of lawn, shade trees and fruit orchard, on an elevation commanding a magnificent view of the city of Washington, and one who has preached against slavery as much as he has cannot now in his declining years afford to be so inconsistent as to leave the delights of such a home for a plantation tramp through the tropics.

Russell Lowell, the distinguished American writer in prose and poetry, born on Washington's birthday in 1819, died at his home in Cambridge, Mass., this morning. In view of his intimacy with the whole American people and the many early companions who have preceded him to the other shore, we need only suggest in the words of his fellow poet:

The mossy marbles rest
On the lip that he has pressed
In their bloom.
And the names he loved to hear
Have been carved for many a year
On the tomb.

The Superior papers are getting colicky because the St. Paul Pioneer Press credits Duluth with the Two Harbors ore shipments. The item referred to having appeared first in The Herald, as all of Duluth's news naturally does, we feel impelled by duty to explain that Two Harbors is a sub-port of Duluth with a deputy customs officer, and the whole business done by the customs "port of Duluth" was what the Pioneer Press copied.

If the Lyceum can maintain its record for such plays as Sol Smith Russell has given us this week the cliff dwellers around "Peaceful Valley" will see to it that there is value even in standing room as was the case last night, for we can well stand the plays that Hosea Howe takes part in, and all Duluthians as they look into his glad sweet face will be delighted to "drop in on mother."

The hundred million dollars to be poured into Minnesota and Dakota for wheat in the next ninety days is thirty millions more than the drain of gold to Europe that has attracted the attention of the world. This means that the Northwest is a hummer and Duluth is the home of the hummers.

As a result of the Speckle-Haven-meyer fight, sugar has gone down to four cents a pound in Philadelphia, but when we figure in the two cents bounty on the home product, it comes back partway toward the old figure. Every maple tree in New England draws a pension, and, as the Yankees say, things are spilling.

The Herald would be sorry to see K company disbanded, and it does not believe a little patience would hurt the boys. Just now the city is not in a position to build an army, and the city government has certainly treated the militiamen well.

A party of congressmen and Washington newspaper men will arrive in Two Harbors by boat tomorrow where they will be met by a delegation of cliff dwellers and escorted to what the countymen of Capt. Duluth so often call "zee beautiful, zee Zenith city."

How would it do to exhibit the Hyde-McDonald land case as a St. Louis county curiosity at the World's fair?

FRED DOUGLASS has resigned the mission to Hayti on account of the weather. If he remained there he would have to change his name to Fried Douglass, and he preferred to be in the soup.

DULUTH produces iron, lumber, wheat, flour, terrace drives and other things, while our little suburb over the bay vainly strives to raise the wind. She's too low even for good ventilation.

SINCE our friend L. Mondenhall became interested in the street railway, it is suggested that our pretty Woodland Park suburb be called Doutherville.

MUSIC IN SCHOOLS.

A Correspondent Has Some Advice on Public School Instruction.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I have been waiting for a long time that the public should manifest some interest in a matter of considerable importance—namely, the instruction in music in our public schools. Being in the musical profession, I would have preferred that somebody else made the first move in this matter, but as I think time is precious and improvement in that department pressing necessary, I undertake to bring the matter before interested citizens.

Our schools number about 5000 pupils; of these presumably about 3000 take the singing, and for these we have one teacher and six or seven buildings for her to visit. Now, can any permanent good result from such instruction? The success of music instruction in schools will, to some extent, be dependent on the same pedagogic principles that prevail in private teaching—the teacher must first be taught good musical discipline, and he shown the way to a higher culture, and theoretical knowledge (and that has in our schools been the main feature) must practically be illustrated. It must not be inferred that my intention would be to make a professional music institution of the public school, but I think a modern education craves an intelligent understanding of music, and I believe in the principle of spending time with a method when time is to be spent at all.

I had, some time ago, excellent opportunities of becoming acquainted with the workings and results of music teaching in public schools, and I have seen, that when a reasonable time is given to this study, the most satisfactory results may be obtained. I know that in a certain public school, pupils after three years' instruction were able to read at sight fairly difficult music, were capable of singing in two or three parts correctly and with expression and musical intelligence. The time allotted to music there was two lessons of fifty minutes a week, and the average number of scholars in each class did not exceed thirty. I know another instance in a public school for girls, where the course of music was planned to last four years. The girls were at the end of that time able to read vocal music by sight, were well acquainted with the principal chords, and were also in a general way familiar with the great names and history of music.

Several young lady graduates from this particular school joined a choral organization of which I at the time was the conductor, and it was very generally commented upon by the other members what easy readers and reliable, intelligent chorus singers they were.

Most musicians who have come here have found remarkably little musical activity, beyond the clerical and reliable, intelligent chorus singers they were.

I have ventured to express my views on this matter, purely out of respect for the growth of music and musical knowledge in this community, and it may be the board of education, and citizens generally, may think that a more weighty consideration, I will also state that I am not a candidate for any position in the gift of the school board.

GEORGE TONKING.

Duluth the Main Port of the Lakes. To the Editor of The Herald: The Superior Telegram of last evening says the receipts and shipments of wheat at West Superior for 1890 were 9,318,335 and those at Duluth for the same year 1,380,302. For fear that this may be taken for a fact, I will repeat what I said before.

Superior did not ship one bushel of wheat during the year 1890, nor did Superior ever ship a bushel of wheat. Every bushel of wheat, every bushel of corn, flax seed, barley and oats that ever left the head of Lake Superior was shipped out by Minnesota men, was hauled by Minnesota men, and was sold by Minnesota men. It is graded and weighed by Duluth men, acting under the laws of the state of Minnesota, and I repeat that the state of Wisconsin or West Superior has nothing to do with it.

ABSOLUTELY PURE

STILL WHEAT CLIMBS

The Fine Three Cent Barge of Yesterday Depicted Today on the Boards of Trade.

A Plunging Chicago Bear Operator who Sees Furiously the Late Errors of His Ways.

Reports From the West are as Brilliant as any one Could Wish Them to Be.

Wheat has ruled very strong and active here today, with good trading in 1 northern September and December at steadily advancing prices up to noon.

Foreign advices are all bullish in their tendencies. Paris quotes wheat 1/2 franc higher. Near the close rumors of the failure of one of Chicago's largest plungers was received here, followed by a break in Chicago quotations of 2c per bu on December wheat. This market naturally sympathizes in the down turn, with sellers predominating and buyers holding off. The market closed dull and weak at 1 1/2c below top prices, but 1 1/2c to 2c above yesterday's close.

Cash 1 hard closed at $1.02; cash 1 northern at $1.00; cash 2 northern 95 1/2c. August 1 hard closed at 94 1/2c; No. 1 northern at 92 1/2c. September 1 hard closed at 94 1/2c. No. 1 northern opened at 92c, declined to 91 1/2c, jumped to 94c, sold at 93 1/2c, closed at 92 1/2c. December 1 northern opened at 92 1/2c, advanced to 91c, closed at 92 1/2c.

PARDRIDGE TURNS BULL.

The Big Chicago Plunger Gets Right Just in Time to Save Himself.

CHICAGO, Aug. 12.—The fact that Ed Pardridge was a heavy loser by yesterday's boom in December wheat and was late with his check at the clearing house this morning occasioned sensational rumors on the board of trade today.

The steady rise of wheat—when all the big buyers, among them Pardridge, are known to be heavily short—added to the startling reports, and it was said the well-known operator was being pushed to the wall. But Mr. Pardridge deposited his check in due time today and when wheat was quoted at 97 1/2c at noon he was talking bullish and his friends said he had covered his short deals and was now on the other side. This is probably true, for as wheat climbed steadily upward today his spirits went correspondingly high and the bulls decided that he was all right and would not lose anything by the turn the market had taken.

Mr. Pardridge, when told that he was reported to be embarrassed, said he had $1,000,000 worth of unincumbered real estate, and was ready to meet his obligations at any time. A. J. Cutler, Mr. Pardridge's chief broker, said he would be willing today to carry Mr. Pardridge for $500,000 if necessary.

Chicago Wheat.

CHICAGO, Aug. 12.—Wheat opened at 95 sold off to 94 1/2c, back to 95, down to 94 1/2c. Cables quoted Liverpool 1/2 pence higher. New York opened stronger and the local sentiment was bullish. A good many shorts who held out yesterday were covering this morning. Local receipts were 50,000 bushels, fifty more than expected. Corn was inclined to weakness. The rains, warm weather and the reputed selling by the Eastern clique caused free offerings. Oats ruled steady. Pork steady. Corn, receipts 328 cars, against an estimate of 335 cars; Oats, 160 cars.

The close was as follows: Wheat—August, 95 1/4; September, 96. Corn—August, 62; September, 59 1/2c. Oats—August, 28 1/2c; September, 28 1/2c. Pork—September, $10.40; 12 1/2c. Lard—September, $6.02 1/2; 65c. Ribs—September, $6.70.

Chicago Live Stock.

UNION STOCK YARDS, Ill., Aug. 12.—Cattle: Receipts, 12,000; firm. Hogs: Receipts, 16,000; strong. Heavy $4.65; $5.45; mixed and medium, $4.75; 65c; 50; light, $4.75; 65c; 50. Sheep: Receipts, 8,000; weak to 15c lower.

NEW YORK Money and Stocks. NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—Money 1 1/2c 1/2 percent. Exchange steady; posted rates 48 1/2c for sixty days and 48 1/2c for demand; actual rates, 48 1/2c for 60 days and 48 1/2c for demand. Government steady.

There was a little more activity on the stock exchange. The opening was firm with values fractionally higher. Union Pacific was the feature. It opened 1 per cent higher at 33 1/4 then further advanced to 34 1/4 in the early trading. It subsequently fell to 32 1/2 and then rallied. The rest of the list advanced in sympathy and most stocks were 1/2 to 3/4 per cent higher at noon than they closed yesterday.

Local Bank Clearings. Today's local bank clearing were $333,730.15.

Hannibal Hamlin in 1856. Biddeford, (Me.) Journal: Mr. Hamlin's speech in 1856 was one of those earnest, conscientious, fearless utterances that awakened the country to the fact that the conflict between freedom and slavery was irrepressible, and that quickened the growth of the new republican party.

He felt that he could no longer act with the majority, said that the repeal of the Missouri compromise was a "gross moral and political wrong, unequalled in the annals of the legislation of this country," and added that "while temporarily acquiescing, I have stated here and at home—everywhere uniformly—that when the tests of those measures were applied to me as one of party infidelity, I would under them as flax is sundered at the touch of fire. I do it now. The occasion involves a question of moral duty, and self-respect allows me no other line of duty but to follow the dictates of my own judgment and the impulses of my own heart. A just man may cheerfully submit to many enforced humiliations, but a self-degraded man has ceased to be worthy to be deemed a man at all. Sir, what has the recent democratic convention at Cincinnati done? It has endorsed the measure I have condemned, and has lionized its destructive and ruinous effects. It has done more, vastly more...

...the convention has actually incorporated into the platform of the democratic party that doctrine which only a few years ago met nothing but ridicule and contempt here and elsewhere, namely, that the king of the Federal Union under the constitution of the United States, carries slavery wherever it floats. If this hateful principle be true then the national ode which inspires us always as on a battlefield, should be rewritten by Drake, and should read thus:

"Forever float that standard before us, Where battles the foe, but falls before us, With slavery's soil beneath our feet And slavery's banner streaming o'er us."

For these reasons, which show the courage, the manliness and the qualifications for leadership of Hannibal Hamlin in his early prime, the democratic senator from Maine formally cut loose from association with the party that had become the tool of the slave power. His action created a great sensation at the time, and it was one of the most potent factors in accelerating the growth of the republican party and the exodus of patriotic democrats from the party of Buchanan and Mason and Sillidell and Toombs.

KAHN'S

NEVER in its history has Duluth made such extensive public improvements as this year, although every city in the Union has been affected by the financial stringency. EDuluth's mercantile business has been steadily increasing and all of our manufacturing industries have been kept busy. New Duluth has built eight of the Wlargest manufacturing industries at the Head of the Lake so far, and several more will be built during the coming year. Stores and dwelling houses are rising out of the ground like magic, a post-office is established, three mills and factories are in operation and the others being pushed to completion rapidly. An investment in such a place where factories, mills and manufacturing plants of great magnitude are being erected, where these mills and factories are accessible by land and water, where the lay of the land is most advantageous for building a city, where the manufacturing plants are of such recognized stability that they will give steady employment to hundreds of men—such an investment cannot fail to be successful. The advantages cannot all be enumerated in a small space, but one visit to this New Suburb will give you much food for reflection. The time to buy lots in the Best Suburb of Duluth is now. Property is sure to advance. The best way to convince yourself is to take a trip to New Duluth. Call at our office for tickets and information.

The Weather.

U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN., AUG. 13, 1891.—10 a. m.—Light rain is falling at Duluth and La Crosse; elsewhere it is generally clear.

An area of low pressure or storm center is forming over Wyoming and will probably move eastward today without materially affecting this section of the country. An area of high pressure is central over the Eastern states. The temperature is nearly stationary. If anything slightly lower, except over the Northwest, where it has risen slightly. The highest temperature is 74 degrees at Fort Smith, Ark., the lowest 52 degrees at South Sea, March 18, was 91 at St. Louis, 86 at Chicago, 80 at Buffalo, 81 at Denver, 80 at St. Paul, 81 at Helena, 81 at Duluth, and 81 at St. Vincent this morning.

Light showers have fallen at scattered places, mostly in the Northwest. The heaviest was .38 inch at Pierre, 28 at North Platte, Neb., and .31 at Cedar Rapids.

POINTS FOR PILGRIMS.

Duluth is the Zenith City and the home of the cliff dwellers, a vigorous and valiant race.

The population of Duluth in 1880 was 3140. In 1890 Duluth proper, a territory of eight square miles, had 32,000, increased to 40,000 by the suburbs of Lakeside and West Duluth—both of which have separate village governments but by an act of the late legislature will be consolidated with Duluth Jan. 1, 1894.

The first railway to Duluth was completed Aug. 3, 1870, when the city had about 2000 people. The road then known as the Lake Superior & Mississippi is now the St. Paul & Duluth. In 1873 the place had attained 5000 population, but the failure of Jay Cooke stopped the building of the Northern Pacific road and left Duluth till 1880 little more than a fishing village.

The strip of land eight miles long running across the narrow head of the lake and enclosing our landlocked harbor is known as Minnesota Point and is a part of the state of Minnesota. It was formed in the long ago by the action of the waters of the St. Louis river flowing out and the waters of the lake driven in by the winds. It also affords a beautiful resort.

The natural outlet of the St. Louis river is at the further end of Minnesota point on the Wisconsin side, but in 1872 the canal at Duluth was cut through the point and now the waters of the river flow this way, constantly deepening the canal by their action. This canal is wholly within the state of Minnesota though a proposition to deed it to the general government has been made.

Of the vessel arrivals at the head of the lakes this season, numbering about 800, all but four have come in and all but one departed through the Duluth entrance—the artificial canal.

There are fourteen grain elevators in the Duluth system with a total capacity of 21,000,000 bushels.

Every bushel of grain shipped from the head of the lakes is inspected under the Minnesota laws, and every grain office in Duluth.

The total yield of wheat this year in Minnesota and the Dakotas is estimated at 150,000,000 bushels, and should this prove true Duluth will handle 40,000,000 bushels. As the price is likely to be $1 a bushel, this means $170,000,000 for the people of the country immediately tributary to Duluth. Wonderful commercial activity would result and vast harbor improvements be demanded.

There are 100,000,000 acres of undeveloped land to the north and west of Duluth, tributary to the head of the lakes, which must in the next decade be thrived with that rudder of agriculture, the plow, and pour its untold wealth into the lap of Duluth.

Within 100 miles to the north of Duluth in St. Louis county, of which this city is the seat, are the richest limestones ore deposits in the world, the first shipments of which were made six years ago. Nearly 1,000,000 tons are now mined every season and the developments have hardly begun.

Duluth had a real estate boom in the winter of 1890-7 but nothing was pushed beyond a normal value. The deferred payments are all cared for and Duluth is today the most solid, superb and certain city on the continent. Her best business property is about $1000 a front foot, the lots being 110 feet deep.

Duluth's banking capital, including surplus, is now almost an even $3,000,000. We need $2,000,000 more to handle the vast commerce of the lakes. It would yield a good return to investors.

Duluth's park system, including the terrace driveway, 400 feet above the lake, will, when completed, be one of the largest and most beautiful in the country. It is believed that only the drive about Naples surpasses that of Duluth, which is to be over twenty miles in length.

With the system of building slips, Duluth has a dock frontage of 150 miles and water enough to float the navies of the world.

Across the bay in Wisconsin our visitors if they had the time would find a very interesting but as yet rather scattered little city of some 12,000 population, which is bound to grow and eventually become to Duluth what Jersey City is to New York. Because of its low situation it has not the beauty and delights of Duluth, and can never become a residence city, but in other ways it will attain a considerable degree of greatness and should, when circumstances will permit, receive attention from visiting congressional delegations.

Some idea of the value of the present wheat crop can be gained from the statement that the Red River counties of North Dakota, with a population of 200,000 souls, will this fall receive in payment for the crop now being harvested, a total of $40,000,000 in money, an average of $200 for every man, woman and child in the valley. The average of money per capita throughout the United States is $24.

Duluth always welcomes strangers at her portals, but it is with more than the usual feelings of delight that we throw out the latch string to the congressmen and journalists who gather about our legislate today. We need them in our business and are more than glad to have them with us at this time to behold our resources and invoice our wants. Again and yet again we greet them.

A convention of delegates from all parts of the state is in session at St. Paul today to devise means for increasing the $500,000 World's fair appropriation made by the legislature last winter. Duluth will do her share. Fully $100,000 more should be subscribed. Chip in.

Duluth demands $2,000,000 more of banking capital to handle her vast and growing business. Don't let that fact escape you.

TO MEN who in the love of Nature hold communion with her visible forms she speaks a varied language," but half our people can't understand her sweet and gentle language as they swing round their orbit on the terrace drive.

THEY held an election down in Kentucky the other day just to see how many of the people were at home. The showing was satisfactory, but they do say the Kentucky republicans feel blue as grass.

WE HAVE no feeling in common with these political pessimists who think darkness has dawned forever upon the earth. With us it is always in the morning by the bright light.

IN THE words of John Allen, of Mississippi, we've got the world on the run, and the reason it runs is because it can't fly. It's coming our way, though, with its pockets full of gold.

DAME REMON had it that there were some pretty limbs at the Lyceum last night. The dame perhaps is jealous.

EVERY million bushels, added to the wheat crop makes another streak of daylight through the alliance party.

WITH a few more railroads into our great northlands we could make the forests slowly pine away.

WE MEAN no flattery when we speak of Mrs. Potter Palmer as chief among the World's fair women.

YOU say you want the summer school of languages to come again? Well, now you're talking.

DULUTH the solid, the twinless and square will this year erect a monument to coars.

AS YOU ride around the terrace drive you will think Duluth is a portable panorama.

DULUTH can conquer more with her elevators than Napoleon did with his arsenals.

BLESSSED is he who makes two pumpkins grow where only one grew before.

THE MILK of human kindness curdles in a hot climate.

ERMINIE by the Wilburs. Erminie was presented to a good-sized audience last night at the Lyceum by the Wilbur Opera company. It is a matter of surprise that though the play is not carried out as it would be by the Bostonians or other companies.

The Herald might mention the management can give such a good entertainment as that of last night at such low prices. The chorus, which is composed almost wholly of girls, is of a good size, makes a nice appearance on the stage and sings well. It did not show quite as well last night as it might have done because the orchestra lagged, but that trouble can easily be remedied. The principals although not remarkable made an excellent impression. Miss Susie Kirwin assumed the role of Fanchon in a pleasing manner and sang well, while Messrs. Frederick and Kohne, who impersonated the thieves, kept the people laughing at their antics. Geo. E. Fisher's Chinese songs and dances, Miss Belle Hamilton's Spanish dance and the Amazonian march captured the house.

The scenery of the house showed to advantage and the costumes of the company were very pretty. The performance will be given again this evening.

WE Endorse it Gladly. Northwest Magazine: The Illustrated American is a remarkable publication—remarkable because it was formed upon no model, and is a happy combination of a newspaper and a magazine. It has the newspaper characteristics of freshness, individuality and individuality and editorial force, and it has at the same time as fine illustrations as the best monthly, is printed on heavy paper, and is in thoroughly good literary form and style. You may call it a weekly magazine, but that does not adequately describe it, for it has chatty, paragraphy features, and has a mind of its own which it knows how to express with vigor on all the current events and discussions of the day. When it first appeared most journalists were skeptical about such a novelty possessing the elements of long life, but it has evidently made a field of its own and captured the steady affections of a large audience of readers.

The Duluth Weekly Herald is the newest weekly paper published in the Northwest. Send it to your friends away from Duluth. Nothing will hold their interest so securely as a neat weekly paper coming to them regularly throughout the year.

THE HIGHEST EXPERT IN ENGLAND.

LONDON, Aug. 8.—The governor of the Bank of England, Mr. William Lidderdale, has consented to make a statement to the public in consequence of the stories in America and on the continent to the effect that a financial crash is near at hand here and that the British banks are afraid to let the full situation be known for fear it would participate a panic throughout the world.

Mr. Lidderdale has been unwilling to speak because of the enormous importance attached to the utterance of the governor of the Bank of England, but he has decided to answer the world-wide rumors that hundreds of penniless financiers are leaving their paper honored in London, and that rotten banks are doing business because the leading banks did not dare to reveal their stupendous losses at present. Mr. Lidderdale is the official pilot of British finance and his utterance is probably the only one that would be accepted as beyond suspicion and beyond dispute.

"I wish to say emphatically," says he, "that there is no basis for the reports that a great financial disaster is impending in Great Britain. It is untrue that any important banking house is in danger save one, and the affairs of that one are now in hand. As for the chartered banks, they are all sound, so far as I know. There have been great losses, it is true, but these losses have been spread over large numbers of persons, and, as a rule, the losses have been already met and paid, leaving the losers solvent."

"There will be a few failures, of course, but none of any importance. The result of the great losses in South America and elsewhere has been to bring people to their senses. Speculation has completely stopped. The difference between the wildness of last year and the depression of this is the difference between the convex and the concave—where there was a hill there is now a hole. People are poorer and wiser; that is the truth of the matter."

"The talk about a coming panic is unfounded. There are two ways in which losses can come upon the market. One is the acute form of a panic, the other is the watered form of dullness, lack of speculation, and distrust. As I said before the losses are already known, and in most cases, already paid. Just now the investing spirit is dead and money is piling up. It will be a long time before the lesson is forgot. I am in a position to say that Baring Bros. occupy a strong position. When the Bank of England took the affairs of that house in hand its liabilities were about $22,000,000. At present Baring Bros. owe less than $500,000, although there is a liability to the Bank of England of $7,000,000. This, however, in no way concerns the public. The Barings' affairs were found to be entirely solvent—a mere matter of getting time."

The wonderful thing is that Russia did not strike a blow at England by withdrawing gold. It is the policy Russia to keep vast quantities of gold on deposit in English houses. He can at any critical time force the bankers to assist Russian loans by threatening to withdraw gold or embarrass England by creating a panic. This was the only overshadowing danger in the recent crisis. Now that that issue has been met, even Russia could not bring about a crisis if she wished. Representative men in London confirm Mr. Lidderdale's answer to the alarmists.

HAPPY MOTHERS.

Is a "Bottle Baby" Piled and Its Mother Educated?

There may be instances of this, but the objection comes principally from, as Helen Packard says in Good Housekeeping, "those elderly ladies who have reared their families in the good, old-fashioned way."

However, there is no duty more pleasing to the young mother than in feeding her child in the way nature has provided, and anything that will help her should be welcomed as one of the greatest blessings. Mrs. H. Perry, of Auburn, Mass., says: "I did not have enough milk for my babe, and so I tried drinking lactated food. It increased the supply of milk, and baby soon grew stronger and better natured."

Another instance of the good effect of this is shown in the case of Mrs. E. A. Clark, Hinsdale, N. H., who says, "My physician told me to drink lactated food, as my child was so thin and poor. We both thrived on it, and the baby is now healthy, happy and rosy, and as good as the day is long."

But mothers that are delicate, convalescent, nervous, and obliged to bear the blood by manual labor, should never attempt to nurse their children. The above picture of the children of Mrs. F. W. Little, Winona, Minn., is a good specimen of the health and vitality that follows the use of lactated food for the babies. It keeps children well, prevents cholera infantum, and is prescribed by physicians everywhere.

The better the food, the better the baby.

A POSSIBLE SOLUTION.

St. Paul & Duluth Road Offers to Take This Part of a Terminal Company on Wheelage Basis.

But Its Apparently Generous Offer Has a Wire Rope Tied to It, It Is Stated.

What Disadvantages Chicago Lovers Under In the Settlement of This Terminal Question.

During the recent visit to the East in quest of information to aid Duluth in establishing a thorough terminal railway system, for the benefit of all roads, the three commissioners called on President Hayes and Oakes of the St. Paul & Duluth and Northern Pacific roads, who jointly hold the master key to the situation. The fact that these two roads own together ample trackage rights into the city from Thomson, passing along the river front by New Duluth and through the city, and that the St. Paul & Duluth owns enough dock and yard room in the center of the city to accommodate a score of railways, is of vital importance.

Manager Plough, of the St. Paul & Duluth, had previously stated that there was no need of any further terminal facilities than the road was willing to furnish on a wheelage basis to all roads that would make arrangements with it. At New York this statement was confirmed by Messrs. Hayes and Oakes, though with certain provisions that would make complete joy on the part of the Duluth committee.

However, it now appears to be quite possible that some day may be fixed up with the St. Paul & Duluth whereby, on a wheelage basis of rental, it will take care of all the desires, access to Duluth wharves and terminals.

Chicago has also had an aldermanic committee about the country looking up the question of better terminals. One of them said a day or two ago:

"The lines running on the surface of the streets have made traffic dangerous and loss of life frightfully heavy. A street crossing, the idea now is to find some feasible plan for elevating the railway terminals to the heart of the city so that the tracks can be afterward correspondingly elevated so as to cross the streets at a height of from twelve to forty feet."

"Another serious difficulty is the sewerage system, which makes a system of depression, exceedingly difficult to handle, and which would also probably leave the city liable to heavy land damage. The Rochester system comes as near what might be accomplished in Chicago as anything we have seen. In all the cities, however, the tracks run straight through, without any side tracks, while in Chicago every manufacturing has a side track. This makes a serious addition to the difficulties of providing a means of raising the terminals and the tracks. The tracks will have to be raised by the city from twelve to fourteen feet above the surrounding ground, and manufacturers and others interested in the side tracks must bear the burden of accommodating themselves to the situation. In any event the change may cost a very large sum."

"The situation in Chicago," said Secretary Thomson, "tending the other way, is very different from that at Duluth. Despite our apparent difficulties I am convinced that there is no city in the country that can so easily have a perfect system of terminals as our own. Of course the fact that all the tracks are out of the way of people, and that the hill, is of the utmost value to the city. There can be no difficulty because of grade crossings that will not be easily overcome. A little forbearance and yielding on the part of present interests will give us a splendid terminal system."

PILLSBURY'S WHEAT.

The Deal by Which That 2,000,000 Bushels Goes East.

In the past three months there has been one lot of 1,500,000 bushels of wheat sent through Duluth to the East by Minneapolis parties. A good deal of speculation has risen regarding this shipment and a further consignment of 500,000 bushels that is now passing through this city.

This wheat is being sent out of the country by Pillsbury and every bushel of it represents a loss to the big English syndicate running the Minneapolis mills of twenty cents. Last fall Mr. Pillsbury was a persistent bull and was a loud exponent of "82 wheat and $10 flour." In his belief he would get 82 cents for his grain of wheat at prices ranging from $1.15 to $1.19 a bushel. He has carried a good share of the wheat, and has 1,000,000 bushels. Since then wheat has gone off pretty steadily and a short time ago the Minneapolis syndicate found itself with enough wheat to make 1,000,000 barrels of flour right on the toes of the biggest crop the United States had ever seen and with the stuff worth about ninety cents, or less, a bushel. Some of this wheat had to be got out of the way, hence the shipment of 2,000,000 bushels to the East by Duluth.

The entire lot of stuff is sent through on a special cut rate by the Great Northern road, passing through its own elevator and on its own vessels to Buffalo, paying but a fraction of a rate to other railway, elevators or steamships.

GAME LAW VIOLATORS.

County Commissioners Don't Want to Stand the Expense of Prosecution.

For weeks back citizens have been urging Sheriff Sharkey to arrest violators of the game law, but that individual has been detained from doing anything because the county attorney has been unwilling to prosecute. The sheriff says he has evidence that would convict at least one man and "perhaps more, but he cannot afford to employ deputies to ferret out the criminals and then not be reimbursed for his expense for lack of prosecution.

The county attorney doesn't want to prosecute because the county commissioners don't want to foot the bills. The commissioners set a little movement on foot last winter which was successfully aided by the law violators, whereby the commissioners' salaries were raised from $300 to $750 each. The commissioners were then successful in getting the game law violators. The sheriff is already out considerable for this trouble.

But let's see wasn't the county attorney elected to prosecute criminals without consulting the county commissioners?

KILLEN A DANDY.

He Succeeded in Keeping Duluth Down to Three Base Hits.

There was a small attendance at Recreation Park yesterday when Duluth and Minneapolis crossed bats. From the start the Duluth boys were not in it, because they could not hit Killen, the Minneapolis pitcher. Both sides fielded well, Ely and O'Rourke making the only errors of the game. McMahon played first base for Duluth. Following was the score:

Minneapolis.....2 1 0 1 0 1 0 0 4

Batteries—Hart and Baldwin; Killen and Ely. Runners—McMahon, 3. Two base hits—Ely, Rogers, Mitchell, Killen. Passed balls—Ely, 1. Errors—Hart, 1. Struck out—By Hart, 3; by Killen, 4. Left on base—Duluth, 5; Minneapolis, 8. Time, 1:25. Umpire—Quest.

To Hustle for Money.

Several business men gathered at Hotel St. Louis last night and discussed the financial aspect of baseball. It was stated that from $2500 to $5000 would be needed to carry the team through the season and that by the end of this week the management will be $1200 behind on salaries unpaid. It was the sentiment that an effort should be made to keep the club in existence and so a canvas for the necessary subscriptions will be made at once.

HAIL DOES DAMAGE.

But the Reports From the General Missionary Field are Just What Duluth Wants Them to Be.

Farmers About Melrose Suffer Severe Loss in All Their Field Products by Hailstorms.

Wheat Today is Lively Enough to Call for Sales in 100,000 Bushel Lots.

Dispatches to The Herald from Melrose, Minn., say that one of the worst hail storms ever witnessed in that vicinity passed through last evening. Thousands of acres of fine wheat in that county was knocked down in a few moments, many of the farmers losing all their crops, even corn and potatoes. No estimate can at present be made of the loss to standing grain, and considerable damage was done to grain in shock. The most damage was done in Lake George and Spring Hill, as the farmers had not begun cutting and the grain was destroyed.

Reports generally continue of the most favorable character, fine weather for harvesting and extraordinary yields are reported. Samples of new wheat are being received here from various points in Minnesota and Dakota that are absolutely perfect.

The board's Fargo special today said: All sections clear, cool, very light rain at Blanchard last night. Fargo clear and cool, temperature sixty.

Local Market.

The local market opened strong at 1/2c above last night's close, with large trading early in the northern wheat for September. Cash wheats and other futures were dull and inactive, but nominally shared in the fluctuations of the day.

After 1 o'clock the market weakened and went back to the opening.

Cash 1 hard at 1.02. Cash 1 northern 1.00. Cash 1 northern 95 3/4. September 1 hard at 94 1/2. September 1 northern opened strong at 94, advanced to 94 1/2, with large transactions, at 94, it broke to 93, with last trading at 92 1/2.

PARTRIDGE QUITS.

The Chicago Plunger Pays up and Admits He's Had Plenty.

CHICAGO, Aug. 13.—Ed Farridge, the plunger, settled his affairs with the board of trade today and his enormous loss, amounting to nearly $1,000,000, if not more, is now a thing of the past. His check for more than $100,000—the largest that has passed the clearing house for many a day—was handed in before 10 o'clock this morning. It is quite possible that with the board's settlement the board of trade has had the last of him, but he does not authorize this statement. He simply says he does not know whether he will ever trade again or not.

"Financially, I am all right," said Mr. Farridge. "Otherwise I am—well, I got beat, but it was not by the market. Somebody is behind this thing, but they won't catch me that way again. No, I never said I was a quack. What truth I did say was that I had played the limit, plunged, I guess they call it, and I did not intend to play that way any more. And that's the truth. I won't let them get me again."

Mr. Farridge said he was still possessed of an income of $150,000 a year from what remained of his fortune.

German Crops Better.

BERLIN, Aug. 13.—Rye advanced one mark further, but afterward receded two marks, a calmer spirit prevailing as it became the general belief that the Russian wheat was a purely economic movement. Statistics also indicate better crops in Germany than had been expected. Germany's imports of rye for the past ten years have amounted to only one-sixth of her own product.

Chicago Live Stock.

UNION STOCK YARDS, Ill., Aug. 13.—Cattle: Receipts, 10,000; steady. Hogs: Receipts, 17,000; weak; heavy, $4.06; $5.45; mixed and medium, $4.05; $5.50; light, $4.75; $5.65. Sheep: Receipts, 5,000; steady.

New York Money and Stocks.

New York, Aug. 13.—Money loaned at 1 1/2 per cent. Exchange, steady. Posted rates, $1.85 for sixty days and $1.87 for demand; actual rates, $1.84 1/2 for sixty days and $1.86 1/2 for demand. Governments quiet.

The stock market opened strong with Union Pacific, Burlington, St. Paul and the latter in Burlington. In the case of Union Pacific the price advanced 3/4 to 35 1/2, but later broke to 34, and carried the rest of the list with it. The sales amounted to 10,000 shares.

Chicago Wheat.

CHICAGO, Aug. 13.—Wheat opened at about last night's close at 96c for December, but was nervously strong and quickly went to 97c, but soon broke to 96 1/2c. Corn yesterday stronger than yesterday. Cables were strong and higher and there was very little wheat for sale. Shorts are seemingly disposed to cover on the weak spots.

Corn opened at 59 1/2 for September, fell to 58 1/2 then back to 59 1/2. Oats lower and weak. Provisions quiet and easy. Receipts are wheat 321 cars, corn 319 cars, oats 264.

The close was as follows: Wheat: Aug, 96 1/2c; Sept, 97 1/2c; Corn: Aug, 61c; Sept, 58 1/2c; Oats: Aug, 27 1/2c; Sept, 27 1/2c; Pork: Sept, $10.85; Lard: Sept, $6.52 1/2; Ribs: Sept, $6.57.

Omaha's Expenditure.

A Superior paper says the information comes indirectly and not officially that about $60,000 will be spent on block 73 on which the Omaha is building its passenger depot. The walls will be faced with brownstone, and the building will have the appearance of being of solid stone. The roof is to be of slate, and iron sheds will extend over the tracks. All of the block outside the building will be paved.

CITY BRIEFS.

Sample bouquets of oats and wheat from the farm of John L. Leboldi in Foster county, N. D., of the Jim river valley country, were placed on exhibition in the Horticultural office of C. E. Lovett today. The straw of both is over five feet long and the well filled heads of wheat over four inches. The straw shows a very luxuriant growth, indeed rather too heavy, but the kernels are plump and the yield will be large.

The Booth Packing company's steamship Dixon will enter into the new service of carrying mails between Two Harbors (via Beaver Bay, Redmeyer and Lutten) and Grand Marais on Aug. 26. A contract has recently been awarded to the Dixon by the Canadian government for carrying two mails a week each way between Duluth and Port Arthur.

Maj. Baldwin took out permits this morning to build four frame dwellings on the upper side of Second street at Seven and One-half avenue west to cost $1000 each. Benjamin Haskins also took out a permit for a frame residence on Huron street, between Twenty-sixth and Twenty-seventh avenues west, to cost $700.

There will be a meeting of the members of the Y. M. C. A. tomorrow evening to consider the question of a new building, and to see the plans proposed, which will also be made plain by the use of a stereopticon. Mr. H. E. Brown, one of the national secretaries, who has had large experience in the erection of association buildings, will be present and give his idea as to what they ought to do and how to do it.

NEVER in its history has Duluth made such extensive public improvements as this year, although every city in the Union has been affected by the financial stringency.

Duluth's mercantile business has been steadily increasing and all of our manufacturing industries have been kept busy. New Duluth has built eight of the largest manufacturing industries at the Head of the Lake so far, and several more will be built during the coming year. Stores and dwelling houses are rising out of the ground like magic, a post-office is established, three mills and factories are in operation and the others being pushed to completion rapidly. An investment in such a place where factories, mills and manufacturing plants of great magnitude are being erected, where these mills and factories are accessible by land and water, where the lay of the land is most advantageous for building a city, where the manufacturing plants are of such recognized stability that they will give steady employment to hundreds of men—such an investment cannot fail to be successful. The advantages cannot all be enumerated in a small space, but one visit to this New Suburb will give you much food for reflection. The time to buy lots in the Best Suburb of Duluth is now. Property is sure to advance. The best way to convince yourself is to take a trip to New Duluth. Call at our office for tickets and information.

Secret Orders Sent the Moscow Police Will Intensify the Jewish Wretchedness

A Wealthy Refugee Tells the Story of the Many Wrongs Suffered by Jews.

Edicts Will not Allow Them at the Border, but Drive Them to It.

BOSTON, Aug. 14.—A sad story was told by Gershen Oping, from Tschilds, state of Kiev, Russia, who arrived at this port yesterday on the steamer Roman, in company with about 150 Jews. About four weeks before he left Tschilds placards as follows were posted:
"From this day forth no Jew will be allowed near or on the border, any Russian seeing a Jew on or trying to cross the border is allowed to take all his clothing and the property on his person; also to maltreat and illuse him, but not to kill him. The penalty for killing him will be $200."
Mr. Oping said: "I was a money lender and lent about 500 roubles to the governor of the Tschilds. A week afterward I received a notice to leave this place within three hours on penalty of going to Siberia for ten years or more. Taking all the ready cash and valuables I had at hand, I started for America with my family. While trying to steal across the border into Prussia, in company with about forty other exiles, we were pounced upon by a crowd of peasants, who robbed us of all our money and valuables. After abusing us to their hearts content, they allowed us to proceed on our way."
Mr. Oping's story was confirmed by his fellow passengers.

The Hegira Intensified.
Moscow, Aug. 14.—Secret orders have been received by the police which will have the effect of expelling every Jew from the district within two months.

Argentine for the Jews.
LONDON, Aug. 14.—Baron Hirsch has empowered Dr. Lowenthal to purchase valuable lands in the Argentine Republic.

LOWELL TO EARTH.

The Funeral of the Distinguished Dead

BOSTON, Aug. 14.—The funeral of Jas. Russell Lowell took place in Appleton chapel, Harvard university, at noon today. Bishop-elect Brooks and Dean Lawrence, of the Episcopal Theological school at Cambridge, conducted the services, which were of a simple character. There was no service at the house or the grave.

Interment was in the family lot at Mount Auburn, which is located in a valley directly in the shadow of Longfellow's resting place. There has been a flood of letters and telegrams received from sorrowing friends and admirers of the distinguished dead, coming from all parts of the world.

George Jones Also.
New York, Aug. 14.—All Souls church, Madison avenue and Fifty-sixth street, was crowded this forenoon. The impressive service of the dead of the unusual all proletarian funeral by Rev. Heber Newton, rector of the parish of which Mr. Jones was long a member. The exercises began shortly after 10 o'clock. The pall bearers, who preceded the casket, were George W. Childs, Robert Bonner, Augustin Smith, Henry A. Morgan, Aurora, N. Y.; Jacob H. Thomson, of the Times editorial staff; T. L. Peverly, of the Times business department, and Editor-in-Chief Chas. R. Miller.

MRS. HOPKINS' WEALTH.
The Score of Millions Left by Her to be Contested.
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 14.—Timothy Hopkins will undoubtedly contest the will of his adopted mother, Mrs. Hopkins-Scarlies. The fight will be long and bitter, involving as it does not only an enormous property, but also the question as to who shall retain the balance of power in the Central and Southern Pacific railways. Mr. Huntington's aggressiveness presents a very fierce opposition. His object in the fight, it is said, will be to keep the Hopkins-Scarlies stock intact.

Was Evidently Simply a Story.
NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—A special to the Tribune from Saratoga says: "C. C. Shayne, the New York writer, the best modern recently declared that New York importers would raise $500,000 to defeat McKinley in Ohio, states that he based his allegation upon a remark made by a Canal street importer, who during a warm political discussion said the importers would send half a million dollars to Ohio to beat McKinley, and that his firm, S. Mass & Co., had contributed $500,000 to the fund."

Winter and Spring.
MEDINA, N. Y., Aug. 14.—Alfred White, aged 80, who induced the 13-year-old Ida Bissell to elope with him, and when arrested for abducting succeeded in escaping, has been recaptured. He came home secretly Saturday, and meeting little Ida induced her to flee with him. The couple were traced to Fillmore, N. Y., where they were captured.

O'Brien Pays Up.
LONDON, Aug. 14.—The decree of bankruptcy issued against Wm. O'Brien some time ago has been annulled. Mr. O'Brien has paid the costs on his libel suit against Lord Salisbury which was decided in the latter's favor.

A GHOSTLY REMINDER.

The Wreck of the Thos. Hume Brought Vividly Back to Mind.

BENTON HARBOR, Mich., Aug. 14.—A bottle was picked up here containing a piece of brown paper on which the following was written: "We, the undersigned, are passengers on the Thomas Hume. The schooner's hold is rapidly filling with water and we have no hope of escape. We are on the St. Joseph course and have been drifting for hours. We have friends in McCook, Neb., and Elkhart, Ind. Please notify them of our fate. Frank Maynard, Wilbur Grover."

It will be remembered the schooner Hume was lost on Lake Michigan about May 10 last, with seven men on board. Not the slightest trace of the vessel has been found. It was owned by Hockley & Hume, of Muskegon.

The Decline of Southern Journalism.
MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 14.—Last night Sheriff Farth shot and killed Editor De Hauenfeldt, of the Herald. De Hauenfeldt was hit four times and Farth once, perhaps fatally. De Hauenfeldt came from Rolo, Mo., about a year ago. He leaves a widow and three children. The sheriff immediately resigned, but was arrested. The trouble grew out of an article published in the Herald.

A LONDON SUICIDE.

Mrs. Whitcomb, Wife of a Minnesota State Auditor, Attempts to Suicide.

LONDON, Aug. 14.—Mrs. Jane Whitcomb, of Minnesota, was charged today at the Marlboro police court with an attempt to commit suicide by taking laudanum. The attempt was made at the residence of Lady Seabright, No. 33, Warrington crescent, Paddington, with whom she had been living for a long time.

Wednesday morning Lady Seabright went to Mrs. Whitcomb's room to wake her up and found her unconscious. She perceived a small bottle of laudanum and having about found a bottle under Mrs. Whitcomb's pillow. She immediately called the servants and Mrs. Whitcomb until the latter partly gained consciousness. Then a policeman and a doctor were called and the latter at once administered an emetic. She has tried several times to commit suicide.

She is separated from her husband, who is living in the city of Duluth, Minn. She is refined and accomplished and moves in good society.

Mr. Wellcome, of Wellcome & Burroughs, the American druggists in Holborn, stated he had known the lady for years, and also knew her husband intimately years ago in America. Mr. Wellcome said he had no doubt that Mrs. Whitcomb was crazy and he had arranged that Minister Lincoln should look after her interests and communicate with her friends in America. The magistrate remanded her for a week and sent her to the hospital in Holloway where she will receive every attention.

Though a number of well known Duluthians are personally intimate with ex-State Auditor O. P. Whitcomb, they do not know where he is here or has been. The telegram is evidently at fault regarding his home.

It is assumed, however, that the divorce between Mr. and Mrs. Whitcomb was filed in a Duluth court and that the divorce was granted here.

TELEGRAMS HARD BOILED.

A large 2-story carriage factory in New Midway, near Frederick, Md., was burned this morning by white caps who didn't want it remodeled for a public school. Loss $2000.

The jury in the case of Dr. Baker, of Abington, Va., charged with the murder of his wife by poison brought in a verdict this morning of guilty.

The forest fires in the neighborhood of Toulon have been extinguished. The total damage is not known but is certainly immense.

Messrs. Butterworth and Handy, of the Worlds fair committee, who have been in Austria, started today for Budapest. They will visit Roumania, Bulgaria, Serbia and Constantinople. They expect to return to London about Sept. 1.

Miss Anna Dickinson lectured last night on "Joan of Arc" before the Goshen post of Sons of Veterans. Miss Dickinson showed no signs of mental derangement.

Reports from the beached Morgan line steamer Eldorado are to the effect that much of her freight has been removed and that divers have examined her and found the hole in her port side to be about twenty-five feet long. She lies near the Florida keys.

The French Army Maneuvers.
PARIS, Aug. 14.—The French army maneuvers this year are to surpass all previous years. The army is now thoroughly equipped with the best modern weapons and is believed to be equal in discipline, if not superior, to the German. French officers are determined to leave no doubt on the subject.

Will Get Little.
LONDON, Aug. 14.—At a meeting of the creditors of Edward Gripper & Sons, corn merchants, who failed July 18, the liabilities were shown to be over £1,000,000. Of this amount half is unsecured, against which are assets of £3,000,000. The unsecured creditors will get little.

NEXT YEAR'S TAX.

The Rate Will Probably be a Little Less Than That of Last Year.

But the Total to be Raised Will be Quite a Good Deal More.

Both County, City and State Have Made out Their Tax Apportionment.

The council committee, whose duty it is to submit a recommendation as to the city tax levy for the ensuing year is about ready to make its report.

The general fund rate of last year, 4.1 mills, will probably be unchanged, but as the increase in valuation is $3,800,000, the revenue derived from this source will be $15,600 greater than last year. The rate of 24.6 mills for city, state and county purposes will probably be slightly reduced this year, but the revenues will be greater on account of the increase in valuations. The general state tax will be slightly higher this year than last, while the county revenue, county poor and county road rates will be slightly lower.

This year, as for several years past, the rate for the fire department will be three mills, the limit allowed by law. But this will not be enough to support the department. For many years the general fund has been drawn on to help out. In 1887 the expenses were $35,518.40 and the taxes collected $34,530.68. In 1888 the expenditures were $61,267.59, the tax $39,021.17. In 1889 the expenditures were $72,365.55, tax levy $52,755.55 and amount borrowed $15,000, while in 1890 the expenditures were $86,215.06, tax levy $55,643 and amount borrowed $20,000. Of course considerable of the money has been expended during the past few years in building houses and paying lands but it looks as if the department was getting to be rather expensive.

It would not be so bad were Duluth getting lower rates of insurance as a result, which certainly ought to be the case, but the underwriters union keeps raising the rates until they have gone so high that something will soon drop with such a loud report that the compact manager will wake up and learn a thing or two.

MILWAUKEE IN,

And a Six Club League, Without Duluth or Minneapolis. Will Finish the Season.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 14.—The American association has shown the white feather in this city and the Cincinnati team, association, will be disbanded at once. Milwaukee will take the pick of the Cincinnati players and fill in the dates of the latter club, opening in St. Louis on Saturday.

This program is the result of a conference which has been held in Louisville between Barnes, Van der Aa and Phelps. President Kramer knows nothing of it, and it is highly probable that he will resign at once when he learns of it. Kelly will in all probability sign with the Cincinnati league team as captain and manager.

It is understood that if Milwaukee goes out of the Western league Duluth or Minneapolis will be dropped and the season finished with a six club league.

Duluth, as being farthest distant, will be the probable club to be sacrificed.

Sporting Notes.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 14.—The Pacific Athletic club of this city has offered a purse of $12,000 for a fight tonight between the champion of the world, Jim Corbett, and a challenger named Pritchard.

Detroit.—The Mississippi Valley Amateur Rowing association held its annual meeting last night. The result was as follows: President, Chas. Griffin, Catlin, Chicago; vice president, Fred D. Standish, Detroit; commodore, J. J. Schaab, Westerns, St. Louis; vice commodore, H. W. Brown, Minnecosas, St. Paul; ensign, George Dixon, Catlin; secretary-treasurer, D. R. Martin, Pullman.

SOME QUICK WORK.

The Marine National Bank Captures Some of Senator Whitman's Money.

Those who read the papers will remember that at the May term of court ex-Senator A. J. Whitman was defendant in a suit brought by Wisdom against Whitman because the latter had given a check in part payment for certain West Duluth lots, which check had proved worthless. The suit was in reality brought to cause the annulment of the deal on which Whitman had already paid $10,000. During the trial of the case Whitman's attorney proffered $4800 in gold to fulfill the terms of the contract, and the money was left in the hands of Clerk Sinclair.

Yesterday Whitman telegraphed to Clerk Sinclair that he had obtained an order from Judge Ensign for the clerk to return the money, and that he would call for it in the morning. This morning Clerk Sinclair went to the Marine bank to draw the money and was told to drop in an hour later. When he called a second time the money was not there, but a garish suit against Sinclair in which the Marine National bank claimed that Whitman owed it $20,640.66. This money was obtained June 25, 1891, by the Whitman Paper company and endorsed by A. J. and R. L. Whitman. This afternoon James C. Hunter, cashier of the American Exchange bank, called on Mr. Sinclair with a note from Whitman stating that the money belonged to the American Exchange and ordering him to pay it to Hunter. Clerk Sinclair, however, could do nothing for Mr. Hunter and the money is still tied up.

The French Crop.
PARIS, Aug. 14.—The Bulletin Des Halles, publishes the result of statistics it has gathered of the French wheat crop. The report of correspondence indicates a total crop of not over $5,000,000 hectolitres. This would make it necessary to import $2,500,000 hectolitres of wheat to meet the demand of the country.

A QUEER ERROR.

The Minneapolis Journal's Fine Book and its Intended Owners.

A few weeks ago M. A. Hays, who was acting secretary of the board of trade, received from the Minneapolis Journal a big box of handsomely gotten up souvenirs of Minneapolis and Duluth. He took it for granted that they were for distribution on the board and among business men and in a few hours nearly all had been given away. When Secretary Welles returned home the remaining books were turned over to him and he continued the gift process.

Yesterday Secretary Thompson, of the chamber of commerce, called on Col. Welles and informed him that a box intended for the secretary of the chamber for distribution to subscribers had been sent to the board of trade by mistake. The colonel began to smile when he learned this and Mr. Thompson smiled in return when informed that the books had been given to everybody. The mistake occurred through the fact that the Minneapolis board of trade corresponds to our chamber of commerce and vice versa. An effort will be made to have the recipients of the books return them to our chamber of commerce and vice versa. A great favor by returning them to the secretaries, as the subscribers paid $10 each for the books and a small advertisement.

HILL CUTS TARIFFS.

Freight Charges From Boston to the Northwest Compiled With an Ax.

President Hill, of the Great Northern, took a hand yesterday in the slashing of lake and rail rates that has been going on for several days. The following lake and rail tariff was announced by the New York & New England, Northern Steamship company and Eastern Railway of Minnesota, from Boston to St. Paul via Buffalo and Duluth, in cents per hundred pounds:

Class..... 1 3 3 4 5 6
Rate..... 30 74 61 42 31 84
This tariff cuts under the rates made by the Ogdensburg Transportation company by the following figures:

Class..... 1 2 3 4 5 6
Cut in cents..... 3 3 12 1 2 2
Col. Hill did not show any partiality in bestowing these favors, which he scattered around with a lavish hand. He next sailed forth to thrash the Rotterdam rail, canal and lake combination. A tariff was announced from Boston to St. Paul, via the New York & New England and Erie Canal combination, as follows:

Cut in cents..... 7 4 4 4 2 1
It is needless to call attention to the fact that these rates shut the rail lines by Chicago out of any participation in through traffic between New England and the Northwest. Col. Hill said early in the summer, at a meeting of presidents, that he proposed to maintain rates as long as could be expected, but if any of the well-known rate cutters went around editing tariffs with an ax he would be music. Young railroad officials desirous of points on open rate cutting according to the forms both prescribed and proscribed by the interstate commerce commission will do well to watch Col. Hill and his opponents for a few days.

THE ORE MOVEMENT.

Two Harbors' Big Shipments: The Wetmore Back to New York.
Napoleon Grignon last night launched the big scow which he built for Porter Bros. & Co. It will carry 275 yards of sand.

Room for 50,000 bushels of oats was obtained here yesterday at two and three-quarter cents.

Vessels can now draw 14 feet 5 inches in passing through the Sault canal. The increase in depth has been two inches within two or three weeks. Usually high water is reached in June, but this year it was quite low in that month. Vesselsmen do not look for much more water. A brief telegram announces the arrival on this side of the steamer Charles W. Wetmore. The fact is not generally known, however, that she came over "in water ballast," probably the first ship in the world to attempt it.

The Ore Movement.

Following is the statement of the Two Harbors' ore movement to date:

	1891.	1890.
Shipments for week.....	41,845	35,353
Shipments for season.....	67,083	313,423
In dock.....	22,613	11,538
Total movement.....	476,675	531,658

The Weather.

U. S. Weather Service, Duluth, Minn., Aug. 14, 1891.—10 a. m. Generally fair weather with rain falling at North Platte, Neb., Springfield, Ill., and Alpena, Mich., reveals this morning. Light rain has fallen in nearly all sections, the heaviest being 1.11 inch at St. Paul, 38 at Springfield, Ill., and 30 at Calgary.

The temperature at Duluth is 58 degrees at 10 a. m. The highest temperature here yesterday was 65 degrees, the lowest last night 56, the mean yesterday 62, which was 2 below the average.

DULUTH, Aug. 14.—Local forecast for Duluth and vicinity for twenty-four hours ending at 8 a. m. (Aug. 15): Fair, slight change in temperature.

R. H. BOSSON, Observer.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—Wisconsin: Clouds and frequent showers; variable winds; no decided change in temperature during the day in Minnesota: Slightly cooler; generally fair weather, except local showers during the day in southern portion; northerly winds. North Dakota: Cooler; generally fair weather; northerly winds. South Dakota: Frequent light showers; variable winds; slightly cooler.

WE CANNOT CHIDE THEM.

The Herald has no censure to offer its contemporary across the bay for any untruthful words that have been spoken about the quarrel among the stockholders of the Duluth street railway and the appointment of a receiver pending the settlement of their personal affairs. We rather like to be lied about as it affords us an opportunity we could not otherwise expect of treading lightly where sleep the dead and buried booms in their bivouac on the morass.

The hearts of the moon-builders are already heavy with grief, and the wingless but web-footed angels of the huckleberry swamp can only wade where they are advertised to fly. For this reason we cannot chide them. We have not the hardness of heart to remind them that their street railway and grain elevators are all owned in Minnesota, that their wheat is inspected in Minnesota, that the whalebacks were invented in Minnesota, that their harbor is lighted by Minnesota, that their town was laid out and inflated by Minnesota men with Minnesota wind, that every vessel touching at their docks enters at a Minnesota canal and passes through a Minnesota channel made by Minnesota enterprise, that their town can't be seen without going to Minnesota, and that their only hope of resurrection from the commercial desuetude into which their unpardonable sin has consigned them is that they are in sight of Duluth, the solid and superb, the rock-ribbed, cloud-capped and twinkles city.

We are too kind even to suggest that they go out some dark and dreary night and rub the name of Duluth from the elevators that sit like huge mud hens on the riparian rim of the morass. Nor shall we observe that in their forty square miles of municipal meanderings there is only one way of seeing the lake or harbor—and that is by going to Duluth. We cannot even hint at an unkindness. To tell them their whole townsit ought to be pried up and have a rock slipped under it might hurt their feelings, and we shall not suggest. Kindness is our only weapon, and we trust it is not of the killing sort. We would not pain them. We would not put so much as a pin hole through their faith in municipal flatulency, nor touch the friends of a departed boom with the tender strains of an obituary notice. It is quite enough that it is gone, and it is more than enough that $2,000,000 of funeral expenses remain as a first mortgage against the mourners of the morass. "To live in hearts we leave behind us not to die."

HERE'S A SUGGESTION.

Duluth folks should prepare and exhibit at the World's fair in Chicago a fac simile of St. Louis county, say 20 by 40 feet in size, showing the ranges of hills, streams, railways, towns, mines, complete plat of our city with every building, street car line, dock and elevator, the harbor with miniature vessels coming and going, trains of cars loading or unloading, and every detail of our social and industrial life. Not the least among the features should be our park system showing the entire terrace drive with a scale of elevations, the groves and fountains all appearing in miniature with the little streams trickling over pebbles as they do in reality over rocks. This could be accompanied with a map and pamphlet descriptive of the wonderful region and marvelous resources tributary to Duluth. Such an exhibit would be unique and would prove a taking feature of the fair. Our varied surface and wondrous natural beauty afford an opportunity for artistic display which no monotonous morass can give. This plan could be easily carried out, and the exhibit could afterward be given to the National Museum at Washington or displayed in some other Eastern city. What do you think?

Out on Puget Sound there are two hundred miles of equally available water front, and the population may be scattered its whole length in municipal ganglia. Duluth holds a pivotal position. Her greatness is concentrated. She's a twinless town, like a jeweled tiara on the topknot of navigation.

The death on Wednesday of the venerable editor of the New York Times, Mr.

George Jones, removes from metropolitan journalism a very distinguished man and one whose honor and integrity have ever maintained the dignity of his high profession.

The Whaleback vessel Charles W. Wetmore that recently cleared from Duluth with 95,000 bushels of wheat which it took via the St. Lawrence direct to Liverpool on the western coast of England, has returned with a load of freight to New York, a well-known town on Manhattan island at the mouth of the Hudson river, which in the earlier days handled considerable wheat but is now used chiefly for election purposes.

The Herald has this week secured the largest advertising contract at the highest rate ever made in Duluth. This is nothing to boast of. Duluth is growing, business is expanding. The Herald is filling the field, and next year we shall have 5000 circulation with still higher rates. Now is the time to make long contracts on the ground floor. Come early to avoid the rush.

A $50,000 sale of Duluth real estate was made today. This is not an unusual thing for our city, but just now, while other towns are resting on their laurels, it is deemed worthy of mention. Never before were there such developments in Duluth as this year is witnessing. She's solid, you know. Now is the time to buy.

Lieut. Carson who was in the city yesterday with his father, Major John M. Carson of the Philadelphia Ledger, is stationed at West Point as adjutant of the post. Having delved in the beauties of the Hudson he was astonished to find a surpassing rival in the mountain grandeur and sylvan allurements of Duluth.

The population of Duluth and suburbs on June 1, 1890, was 40,000. The population of Superior at the same time was 11,000, thus swelling the head of navigation to over 50,000. The head, however, is on this side and the swelling on the other.

The St. Paul & Duluth road has it in its power to give Duluth all the terminal facilities we shall ever need to handle all the commerce of the continent. Can we induce our corporate friends to do it? Well, if we can't, we'll do it for 'em.

When the $130,000,000 now due Minnesota and the Dakotas for this year's wheat crop pours in through the portals of Duluth, the agricultural mortgages will curl up like shingles planted in the wrong time of the moon.

Duluth needs more banking capital. It will reap a rich reward. Bring on your boodle.

When the Iowa granger goes out after a busy day and listens to the rattling of his 100-bushel rock-saw, he reads the alliance down in the setting sun, while through his heart percolates a sweet but mournful emotion, a tear gathers in his punkin' money eye, and his erstwhile champion voice grows husky. Even the Indians are amazed.

As an advertising medium for dry goods, clothing, boots and shoes, or anything used in the home, The Herald has no competitor. It reaches everybody that is likely to buy a shoe string, a paper of pins, a collar button, or a carter. Now is the time to be back on.

The Independent's View.

The Independent, Aug. 6, 1891: The cities of Duluth and Superior, lying at the extreme western end of Lake Superior, have a tremendous advantage in that they are 350 miles further westward than any other lake port. This means a saving, perhaps, of half a cent a bushel on grain, the result being that the great wheat-growing regions of Minnesota, Wisconsin and the Dakotas use the half a dozen or so trunk lines running into Duluth and pour their wheat product into the city in almost untold quantities. Immediately tributary to are inexhaustible mines of iron, and the great flouring mills of Minneapolis, being 250 miles nearer by rail than to Chicago, also furnish a great quantity of flour for shipment to the East. Coal is taken back, thus supplying return freight. A large number of manufacturing establishments have in the past five years centered here, employing thousands of men, making a tremendous demand for dwelling houses and supplies. Real estate, in consequence has rapidly and continuously increased, and presents today opportunities for remunerative investment. The statistical reports issued by these cities are so instructive and interesting that, as a matter of curiosity alone, we advise our readers to write and get them, retaining in this way some little idea of the possibilities of the two cities of Duluth and Superior.

Duluth the Magic City.
J. C. McMinna was one of the editors who visited Duluth with the National Editorial association recently, and in his paper Northwestern Progress, of Pierre, S. D., he says:

On Saturday morning the party broke up, some going to Minneapolis, some to Yellowstone park, some to the Pacific coast, some home about 100 to Duluth to see the Zenith City. The Great Northern, whose officers had been indefatigable in making the stay of the editors pleasant, furnished extra cars for the Duluth trip. The ride was a pleasant one, and the arrival at Duluth a revelation.

When Proctor Knott made his now famous speech about the magic city of "unsuspected" he spoke better than he knew, for Duluth is indeed a magic city. Not only is it founded on a rock, but everything indicates that the city is exceedingly prosperous. Heretofore Duluth has been known as a growing commercial center and the future metropolis of a vast country, but since the editors drove over the seven mile boulevard skirting the hill tops, and viewed the landscape stretched before them and breathed the invigorating lake breeze, it has become evident that scenery and comfort must be added to the claims of Duluth.

A stroll along the wharfs and among mammoth warehouses was enough to impress any one with the strategic position of this city for controlling commerce, and with the development already made. The universal opinion seemed to be that the site of Duluth was made for a great city, and that the right kind of people were guiding the affairs of the city to make it all that nature had intended.

A day's entertainment in Duluth, a steamboat ride on the bay and on Lake Superior, and the party was landed at West Superior, the rival of Duluth for future greatness.

West Superior is located on the opposite side of the bay from Duluth and is in Wisconsin, while the former is in Minnesota. While Duluth is located on a side hill, West Superior is situated on a dead level expanding into a number of locations, though different, and both no doubt have prosperous futures.

The Whaleback Builder.
St. Catherine's Journal: The success of the whaleback class of steamer has justly made Capt. Alex. McDougall of Duluth, the inventor, famous, and as usual all the Yankee newspapers claim him as a brilliant American. As a matter of fact the great whalebacker was born in the Scotch town of Leith, learned his trade as a first-class boiler maker under Mr. Napier, in his ship yard on the Clyde.

When a young man he helped to build some of Sir H. Allan's Montreal liners and finally came to America as a second engineer. He also worked in a Detroit ship yard, and with what was thought his crink ideas of round top and flat bottomed iron boxes interested capitalists who started his big ship yards. "Mac," as he is familiarly called, is now worth about a million dollars, and will double it in a few years. He is about 50 years of age and has two sons and two daughters. He knows all about iron ships and has a bad temper, and a butt on his tongue like a highlander. When anything appears wrong he is worse, and like old Napier will often pull off his coat, crawl in through a man's leg and fix a rivet or screw in a workmanlike manner. This, as we are told, is Mr. McDougall, the master mind of the whalebacks and the master mind of American ship builders.

This is Sound Sense.

Superior Call: Another year in power of the present city administration would leave the city treasury in a practically bankrupt condition, and the best citizens of the city are beginning to say it is time to call a halt in public expenditures. Every good citizen feels that what public improvements are made ought to be well done, and with this idea in view this place will, in a few years, be the metropolis of the Northwest, but it seems a great folly to be launching out into extravagance which will not be needed for many years to come. When we invite people to come to Superior to make it their home and to go into business here, we would like to be able to say that they are not overburdened with debt and that the man who makes 8 per cent on the capital invested will not have to expend one-half of that to pay his taxes. Better make haste slowly.

And this too: It is understood that the big sewer at the east end is to be used when completed as the connecting link between Lake Superior and the Mississippi river. The ordinary taxpayer, when he gazes upon its monstrous proportions and figures up the cost, thinks a good deal like the general when told that his troops had gained the day, replied: "Another such victory and I am undone."

THE FIRST BABY.

More Precious in the Parents' Eyes Than Gold or Silver.
"As he was our first baby we treasured him more than we could tell," said Mr. B. T. Andrews, of Petersburg, Va.
"But when four months old the little fellow weighed only seven pounds, and seemed to be gradually wasting away. Only a father or mother can understand our feelings at that time."
"Our family physician, Dr. Robert H. Jones, told us that the child needed food, not medicine, that what he ate did not make good blood and ordered us to use lactated food. The result was really wonderful. In a month's time our little boy, who was before so pale and puny, had cheeks as red as roses and was strong and well.

"Our friends often ask us what brought him out and say that he doesn't look like the same child. We always tell them that it was all due to lactated food."

Four-fifths of all the children that die under two years of age die from diseases that are caused by improper food. When the lactated is used, good blood is formed, cholera infantum is prevented, teething becomes easy and the little one enjoys sound and refreshing sleep. If parents understood these truths as they should, much of the misery and most of the deaths among children of the land could be and would be avoided.

Mr. Andrews' experience with his first baby should be remembered both as a warning and encouragement to all parents whose children are poor and puny, when they should be bright and happy.

AN IMPORTANT DECISION

A Claim Against Property Valued at Several Hundred Thousand Dollars Knocked by the Supreme Court.

Title to Valuable Lands Lying Just North of the City was Supposed to be Affected.

What the Local Receipts of Wheat Have Been for the Fast Closing Crop Year.

Judge Gillilan, of the state supreme court, has rendered two decisions that affect several hundred thousand dollars worth of property near Duluth. The suits were known as John A. Murphy, appellant, vs. Frank Burke Jr., et al. respondents, and John A. Murphy, appellant, vs. the Motor Line Improvement company, respondent. The facts leading up to the decisions are as follows:

Eighteen years ago Col. J. P. Culver bought from the state seven quarter sections of school lands, four of which constituted section 35-5-14 and the other three of which were in section 35-5-14. The state gave Col. Culver certificates showing that he had paid a quarter cash and stipulating that the remaining three-fourths be paid at certain times and that other obligations be fulfilled. Col. Culver transferred the certificates to the old First National bank of this city. The bank failed and the receiver of the institution sold the certificates at auction to K. C. Mitchell for fifty cents. Mr. Mitchell held the certificates ten or twelve years and finally sold them to J. A. Murphy, a West Superior land agent, who has no record of them during all these years and Mr. Mitchell failed to make further payment on the land and allowed the taxes to go unpaid.

In the meantime the land was sold for taxes and new certificates were issued to the purchasers who complied with the requirements of law. The title under the second sale by the state finally passed to the respondents in the suits first mentioned. The title under the first sale to the Motor Line Improvement company and that for the three-quarters in 35-5-14 to Frank Burke Jr. and Bertha Magoffin. A while ago suit was brought in district court to quiet title to the lands, and Murphy, the holder of the first set of certificates, lost. The decision of the supreme court given below is an affirmation of the order of the lower court. The land in 35-5-14 is said to be worth over $200,000.

Evidence held sufficient to sustain a finding that the holder of certificates of sale of school lands abandoned all claims to the lands. After such abandonment and the title passed to another, to comply with the conditions of the certificates, the holder of the land is not to be considered as superior to that of any other who may claim the land. The court affirmed the decision of the lower court.

RECEIPTS ON THE CROP.

Figures that Show How Duluth Stands; The Prospect.

Superintendent McCabe, of the Omaha road, here in town last night to see that everything was in first class condition preparatory to handling the vast business that must come as a result of the "big crop."

"Southern Minnesota," said he, "is in fine condition and the crop is the largest known. The greater part of the wheat of that section must be handled by us. I think that Minnesota will be well supplied with wheat from the Southern part of the state so that most of the Dakota and Northern Minnesota crop must, of necessity, come to Duluth for export. Our road expects to bring considerable grain to Duluth this year from far below for Chicago cannot begin to handle it all."

President J. J. Hill, when here Wednesday, spoke as follows on the crop: "I am here principally to see about making preparations for the reception here of the new wheat crop. The receipts at the head of the lake from the Great North-ern system will be unusually heavy, and I expect we will have our facilities for handling our share severely taxed at times. However, we are making extra preparations in anticipation of the increase. The Northwest has enjoyed a most bountiful wheat crop—the largest ever produced, and the prospects now are that a vast amount of wheat will get to market early. The heavy lake and rail business in connection with our road and the Northern Steamship line, is now about to commence and judging from the very satisfactory business during the spring and summer months, the wind up of the season will show that the increase over the past year has also been very satisfactory. Yes, the outlook for an exceedingly busy fall could not be improved."

The Duluth Elevator company's houses are empty, the Clyde taking on the last wheat in the bins. A survey of totals and comparisons will be of interest. The actual aggregate receipts since Sept. 1, 1890, from this system of elevators is 4,456,499 bushels of grain, the bulk of which was wheat. Had it not been for the restrictive order passed by the Great Northern at the beginning of last season the amount of business of the elevators would have been greatly increased. A comparison shows a slight increase over the year before, the figures then being 3,275,575 bushels.

The Great Northern elevators have received since Sept. 1, 1890, to date, 4,768,683 bushels of wheat and will receive 200,000 bushels more before Sept. 1; of the total of 5,000,000 bushels about 2,000,000 bushels being stuff that has been pushed forward for Eastern shipment by Pillsbury. The elevators now hold 134,683 bushels. This is the best year the company has ever had.

The Lake Superior and Union Improvement companies have received Sept. 1, 1890, to date, 6,572,791 bushels wheat, and have now in store 125,000 bushels. To the close of the twelve months, the receipts of these companies will be 6,000,000 bushels.

Recapitulated the business of the crop year will foot up as follows:

To date. Expected.
L. S. & U. I. companies..... 6,572,791 30,000
Great Northern..... 4,768,683 25,000
Duluth Elevator company..... 4,456,499

Probable total for crop year..... 15,800,000 16,000,000
It is not expected that new wheat will begin to move in quantity enough to materially change these figures before Sept. 1.

"I believe," said Superintendent Ruppel, of the Lake Superior company, this morning, "that we are going to be showed under so deep this fall that we won't know what to do. I look for a business in the coming season of double the last, and what is to be done with the wheat by the railways is hard to tell. The elevators will handle it all right if the shipments are at all active in the three fall months. The Great Northern people have a claimed capacity of 3,500,000 bushels, the Duluth company folks of 5,000,000, while we have 12,000,000 capacity, not estimating any house but I. Probably we can store at the head of the lake about 10,000,000 bushels, allowing for special bins, etc. We expect to use all our sheds this winter."

Said W. C. Farrington, general agent of the Great Northern railway, "We expect to be completely blockaded this fall with wheat. If the weather remains as it is now for another two weeks there is no telling what the railways will be able to do."

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Martin, of Titusville, Pa., and a number of friends, arrived on their homeward journey last night after a pleasant visit here. Mr. Martin came up the lakes over four years ago. He found the place so changed in the interval that he could hardly get his bearings. He thinks a young man of push cannot go astray if he will settle in this locality.

Social Notes.

The ladies of the social and baptist church will hold a lawn social at Mrs. Mathews on West Third street, near Twenty-eighth avenue west, next Tuesday evening.

A jolly party of young people was entertained on lake and bay last evening on the tug Cotton by the Peyton family.

For Rent.

A suite of four rooms on the second floor of the Parsons business block. Will be rented cheap if taken soon and by one party. Inquire No. 23 East Third street of J. W. Rowley.

The following variations in temperature were recorded at the Pioneer Fuel company's office, hotel St. Louis, 326 Superior street: 12 m., 61; 3 p. m., 67; 6 p. m., 66; 9 p. m., 62; 7 a. m., 55; 9 a. m., 59; 12 m., 60; maximum, 72; minimum, 54; daily range, 18.

Will Probably Refuse the Bids.

It is probable that none of the bids received yesterday for the construction of the southerly approach to the viaduct will be accepted by the city. The mayor and board of works state that the cost is too great for the city's general fund and the property owners would probably object to being assessed for it. A wooden structure would cost many thousands of dollars less than the proposed iron one and would be just as serviceable.

THE MARKETS.

Enormous damage is reported to have been done by rain and hailstorms in various parts of the state. In Sherburne and Benton counties everything in the shape of uncut grain in the path of the storm was ruined. At Ellsworth $25,000 damage was done. The old Iowa, Minnesota and Dakota elevator was wrecked, houses and churches were damaged and several narrow escapes are reported.

G. G. Hartley has received word from his 120-acre farm near Mapleton that it will go twenty bushels everywhere, and that a part of it which he liberally fertilized will go at least thirty bushels to the acre. The reports are all extremely favorable, the board's special today saying: "All sections clear; calm; no frost or rain. Fargo clear; cool; temperature 55 degrees."

Local Market.

Wheat opened very strong and excited here this morning, September selling at 2 1/4 above last night's close. Trading in December wheat commenced at a little later at 1 1/2 advance. The market ruled irregular. Late cables report Liverpool and London markets easier on better weather.

Cash wheat closed nominal. September 1 hard at 97 1/2. No. 1 northern opened at 95, sold off to 93 1/2, and then rose and closed at 95 1/2. December northern opened at 94, declined to 93 1/2 and closed at 96 without sales.

Chicago Wheat.

CHICAGO, Aug. 14.—Wheat opened excited and higher with first sales of December at 96 1/2 and very excited, sold almost immediately to 98 1/2, but as quickly broke to 98 1/2. Cables were higher. New York was a heavy buyer and there was a good deal of excitement over indefinite rumors abroad. Corn excited with September opening at 58 1/4 to 59, sold to 59 1/2, and off to 59. The market was chiefly influenced by wheat. Oats steady. Local receipts were: Wheat, 127 cars; corn, 428 cars; oats, 301 cars; rye, 152 cars; hogs, 10,000 head.

The close was as follows: Wheat—August, 97 1/2; September, 98. Corn—August, 62 1/2; September, 59 1/2. Oats—August, 28 1/2; September, 28 1/2. Pork—September, $10.07 1/2. Lard—September, $6.60. Ribs—September, $6.05.

New York Money and Stocks.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—Money 1 1/2 @ 2 percent. Exchange firm posted rates 47 for sixty days; actual rates, 48 1/4 for sixty days and 48 1/4 @ 48 1/4 for demand. Government bonds steady.

The stock market was steady. St. Paul and Burlington absorbed most of the trading. In the opening deals prices declined 1/4 to 1 1/4 per cent. The latter in Louisville & Nashville, which was especially pressed for sale. In no case was the buying on a large scale and the advance was due more to a process of bidding up than to any other cause.

HAD ITS EFFECT.

Secretary George Mueller, of St. Paul, Thinks the Alliance Circular Has Worked

At any Rate Farmers Will Stack Wheat Till After Plowing—He Says.

If They do There'll be a Bunched Lot of Farmers Next Spring.

ST. PAUL, Aug. 15.—Geo. Mueller, who issued the alliance wheat circular says:

"We have received replies from the secretaries of alliance in Southern Minnesota, South Dakota, Wisconsin and Kansas, a larger number from the latter state where the alliance is strong, telling us of alliances having voted favorably on the suggestion. These were the localities to which the circulars were first sent. Not an unfavorable reply has been received from any of them.

"My opinion is that the farmers will allow their grain to remain in the stack and go on with their fall work, plowing, etc., and do the threshing afterward.

"This of itself will result in a large percentage of crop being held for a time, at all events."

THE RUSSIAN IDEA.

Effect in Berlin of the Suspension of Food Exports.

BERLIN, Aug. 15.—While it was believed to be possible to obtain large shipments of rye before Aug. 27, the trade here was consoled, but the report that the Russian railway administration refused transportation to the German frontier has sent prices up at a bound.

At a meeting of Silesian millers it was decided to send a telegram to Chancellor von Capri, begging him to abolish the corn duties, saying that otherwise the Russian ukase was likely to ruin the mill industry and throw out of employment thousands of hands.

The Vossische Zeitung demands temporary free entry for all provisions and for tea, coffee and petroleum, and the abolition of prohibition of American foods and a reduction of freight rates. So far the chancellor seems to be unmoved and the ministers support him.

The government resolutely adheres to its decision not to reduce the corn duties. The policy of the government is now held responsible for the proceedings of the bears in the corn market. It is alleged that the ruthless speculations for rise could not have proceeded with such absolute security, but for Chancellor von Capri's positive statement that there was no reason to fear the exportation of Russian rye would fail.

The ukase prohibiting rye exports is approved by the press of St. Petersburg. Reports show an almost complete failure of winter sown cereals in the provinces, with cattle decreasing in value and the peasants selling the stock at a loss. There is agitation on the bourse and prices are falling. Speculators are making haste to export grain before the ukase takes effect. In some cases other cargoes are unloaded to make room for grain.

Smaller Packers go Out.

CHICAGO, Aug. 15.—Only the "Big Three" will remain at the stock yards. The much talked of Stickney tract has been purchased by Samuel W. Allerton and fifteen other packers representing all outside the triangle, and by December 1, business will be in full swing at the new yards. At a general meeting of principal packers outside of Armour, Swift and Morris, on Wednesday night, a resolution to cut loose from the big three was carried with a cheer. They control 42 per cent of the trade and are disgruntled because the stock yards paid the big three several millions and themselves nothing.

Serious for Premier Mercer.

OTTAWA, Aug. 15.—Some sensational testimony was given last night before the senate committee investigating the Baie Des Chaleurs subsidy scandal. Contractor Armstrong recited the plot, said the Quebec government was induced to vote a subsidy equal to $250,000 and to get this Armstrong bargained to give Ernest Paquet, financial manager, $100,000. The whole matter looks serious for Mercer, and Lieutenant Governor Angers will probably insist on an immediate investigation.

Injured in a Rail Wreck.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 15.—An express train on the Reading ran into a freight near Egg Harbor last evening with disastrous results. Both trains were badly wrecked and a dozen or more passengers on the express were severely injured. Among those injured were: Wm. F. Orrin, Mrs. Otto Bettie, all Philadelphia; Henry Hoffman, W. B. Evans, of Atlantic City; S. Ireland, of Linwood.

A Wealthy Inventor Suicides.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Aug. 15.—M. F. Cox, of Philadelphia, attempted to commit suicide by cutting his throat. He may, however, recover. Ill-health was the cause. Mr. Cox is a noted inventor. Among his inventions is the block system which has been adopted by all the latest constructed railroads in the world. He receives an immense royalty from the Pennsylvania for the block system.

FORT SMITH, Ark., Aug. 15.—Edward Stinson, a farmer living ten miles from here, yesterday kicked a can of nitroglycerine to see what it contained. It took the coroner's jury three hours to get his remains together.

Active in Berlin.

BERLIN, Aug. 15.—The grain market was very much excited today. Rye, August delivery wheat closed yesterday at 24 1/2 marks, advanced to 26 marks and closed at 25 1/2.

CHICAGO, Aug. 15.—Louis F. Mortimer, swindling manager of the National Capitol Savings bank has reached Canada in safety. Mortimer's father has not been heard from.

Dakota Congressman Dead.

YANKTON, S. D., Aug. 15.—Congressman John R. Gamble has just died. He was a native of New York and 48 years old. He was elected last fall to succeed Gifford.

HAD THEIR FUN.

And it is Time that the Scared Should be Set Right.

Several months ago it was stated in all seriousness that a young woman who had the bravery and earnestness to leave a life of ruin in a St. Croix avenue house, and was being cared for by philanthropic ladies of the city, had prepared a list of her male friends for the past few years. The statement caused a good deal of excitement and much scurrying to and from among many of the men of the city. Ever since then a couple of young men, who started the story, have been having lots of fun by reason of it, and it has naturally grown, like a snowball, by rolling. It may be stated now, as a positive fact, vouched to The Herald from the best source, that no such list was ever made, and that the fearful "400" may breathe freely once more. Thus ended a huge practical joke.

JAY IS ILL.

The Wizard of Wall Street Said to be Seriously Ill.

CHICAGO, Aug. 15.—The Inter Ocean's New York correspondent says: "It has been kept secret, but Jay Gould, the wizard of Wall street, the man who can when he so wills, do more to upset the markets of the world than banks or bankers, is sick and has gone to Idaho for treatment."

At the last meeting of the general managers, Mr. Gould was in attendance, but took less interest than usual, and he was seriously ill. With the greater precaution he was removed to a chamber in the hotel, and medical aid summoned.

It was not until night that the physicians in charge would consent to have him taken to his own house. So many and various are the interests supposed to be more or less dependent upon the health and life of this man, that every effort was made to keep him out of the hands of the world. Soon as the doctors thought him able to travel he started for Soda Springs, Idaho, where he is now supposed to be.

Those who have observed Mr. Gould lately have not failed to see that his slight frame has been growing slighter and that his movements indicated that the intense activity of years was beginning to tell upon him. Such people will not be greatly surprised at the story of the Windsor hotel but there will be great anxiety and Wall street will be disturbed until news comes from Soda Springs.

From parrot words of English undeveloped
None ever drank than he, the new world's child.
While the language of their farm fields, spoke
The wit and wisdom of New England folk.
Shouting the glorious wrongs the world wide laugh.
Proud, they might well have shaken hail
The walls of slavery down ere they all
And mine of battle overthrew them yet.

Hayti's Cabinet Change.

PORT AU PRINCE, Aug. 15.—A turbulent scene occurred in the chamber of deputies, that body refusing to endorse the ministry's action granting a concession for the construction of the telegraph line and censuring the ministry for incapacity and corruption. Hypothesis is now busy forming a new cabinet. The crisis is still quiet, but the people fear trouble.

DISCUSSING BONDS.

Treasury Secretary Foster and Mr. Sherman Hold an Important Financial Session.

The Latter Would Pay off the Matured Bonds and Trust to Providence.

Mr. Harrison has a Declination to Come Out Which Doesn't Decline.

MANSFIELD, Ohio, Aug. 15.—Secretary Foster and Senator Sherman had a very important conference Thursday night. It continued for five hours, during which the entire financial situation was reviewed and the question of continuing the 4 1/2 per cent bonds was discussed.

The ex-secretary did not share the views of Mr. Foster on the subject. He thought the secretary should pay the 4 1/2 per cent and he undertook to show how easy it was for him to do it without causing trouble in the financial world. His position was that the money already in the treasury that could be spared from the sinking fund and what might accrue in the meantime would be sufficient to pay off the bonds when due. He explained to the new secretary that July, the worst month of the year, had been passed in safety, and that now gold would return to its exports began, and that the improvements of the splendid crops and the payment of new revenues would make things easy, saying that the bonds could be retired without difficulty or danger.

Mr. Sherman did not think the retirement of securities that have been held by the national banks as a deposit for circulation would have on the banking system any effect. He said the banks would very soon adjust themselves to the new conditions when the government would furnish the currency to them direct. How far Secretary Foster accepted or will accept Senator Sherman's views upon this subject remains to be seen.

Harrison to Withdraw, It—

CAPE MAY, N. J., Aug. 15.—President Harrison will before the republican convention of 1892, declare that he is not a candidate for the nomination to be made by that convention under two certain conditions. The first is if the present opposition in the party shall continue; the second, if Blaine shall be well enough to take the nomination and desires it.

Marine Notes.

The old government cutter, Andy Johnson, arrived yesterday afternoon. "Simply on her annual cruise over Lake Superior," answered Capt. Davis. "We start for Milwaukee with Capt. Davis. The cutter will take the trip with us."

The chicken-bone scrapers on the Andy Johnson scoured the harbor this morning and managed to find a captain who did not have his license posted in the wheel house. He hustled to the collector's office to pay his fine, but the collector would not give out his name.

MONEY STILL BETTER.

Manager Macfarlane's Report on the New York Market.

A. R. Macfarlane, manager of the American Exchange bank, returned this morning from his second trip within three weeks to New York city. "I never saw," said he, "such a big change in so short a time for the better. The financial condition was good three weeks ago, but it is far better now. New York is at last beginning to make loans on time."

There has been a well-defined report around town within the past few days that Mr. Macfarlane's trip was made chiefly with the object in view of obtaining money whereby he, L. Mendenhall and others might purchase the plant of the Duluth Gas & Water company and then be in a position to make demands of the city. He was asked in regard to the matter and said that that was the first he had heard of it.

IN DOUBT.

With the Probability that the Governor Will Not Call an Extra Session.

ST. PAUL, Aug. 15.—A state official who stands closely in the confidence of Governor Merriam said today that there was no reasonable probability that the governor would consent to call an extra session of the legislature to make an appropriation for the World's fair.

"I have not talked to him since the late meeting," said he, "but I know he was unqualifiedly opposed to it before the meeting, and I am sure it will take a very strong pressure to change his mind on the subject. The meeting yesterday was clearly in favor of an extra session, but I am sure the governor will want more than the opinions expressed yesterday to induce him to make the call."

The gentleman declined to have his name used in this connection, but was positive the outcome would confirm his conjecture.

In District Court.

Ebenezer Falconer vs. Malcolm McAnlay and Martin Daniels is an action filed in district court today. Falconer complains that on Jan. 15 he obtained judgment against McAnlay in $1300 for services rendered and that on that day McAnlay with intent to defraud the plaintiff, gave a deed of lots 3, 4, 5 and 6, section 30-63-11 to one McKay for a nominal consideration, and also that McKay had knowledge of the alleged intent to commit fraud. It is further alleged that a new trial on July 27 resulted in a verdict of $1504.33 for the plaintiff and that on July 30 Daniels contracted to buy the lands in question from McKay within 90 days for $4500. Plaintiff asks that the deed be declared a fraud and that the judgment be declared a lien on the land, or that the judgment be declared a lien upon the fund to be paid by Daniels to McKay.

The Largest Matinee Ever in Duluth. The Wilbur has certainly made a great hit in Duluth. At the matinee this afternoon the Lyceum sign "This House is Packed" was out ten minutes after the doors were open. The company play "Nanon" tonight and "Grand Duchess" Monday night. There will be two matinees a week hereafter, Wednesday and Saturday. The matinee today is compared almost entirely of ladies and children and is by far the largest ever had in Duluth by any company.

The Weather.

U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN., Aug. 15, 1891.—10 a. m.—Rain is falling in Illinois and at Wheeling; elsewhere it is generally fair. Rain has fallen all over the southwest and in the Ohio valley. The heaviest was 1.88 inch at Kansas City, Mo., and 1.20 at Cleveland. An area of low pressure is centered over Manitoba and another over Kansas, and until they move off unsettled weather may be expected, and there is an excellent chance for rain in this section tonight.

The temperature has changed slightly; the highest this morning was 74 degrees at Dodge City, Kan., and Fort Smith, Ark., the lowest 50 degrees at Calgary. It was 70 at Chicago and St. Louis, 60 at Duluth, 58 at St. Paul, 54 at Helena, 54 at Buffalo and 58 at Cincinnati.

The highest temperature here yesterday was 60 degrees, the lowest last night 55, the mean yesterday 62, which was 2 below the average.

SECRETARY RISK IN TOWNS.

Our American Uncle Jerry, secretary of agriculture and ex-officio patron saint of the farmers, arrived in Duluth from Ashland yesterday afternoon on the revenue cutter, Adny Johnson. He tarried only long enough to drive from the Northern Pacific dock to the Superior ferry and went immediately over to spend the night in his own state, leaving his baggage on the cutter to which he returns today.

The Herald takes this occasion to welcome him to Duluth. Although frequently, yet not every day, are cabinet officers in our city, and it is fitting we should remember them with some mark of regard. More than ordinary attention should be given him who regulates the rain and the sunshine, and on whom devolves the important duty of sending seeds to the farmers when the springtime comes, Gentle Annie. He is the granger's god of Olympus, and with the new explosives, will, in true biblical fashion, make the rain fall on the just and the unjust. Whether he can overthrow Neptune, and drive the floods away, is a problem yet unknown, but it is within reason to believe that in years to come the waters can be driven to their secret places or held in cloud banks over some desert land.

Therefore we greet our uncle. For in the perfection of electric science it may be he can make it rain where it listeth. Peradventure he can run little streaks of luck all around the country, sprinkling the dusty roads and terrace drives or making it rain on the corn and shining the wheat, thus giving us those special acts of kindness which in former days were accounted from another source. We love him for his modest grace, and as he walks through the department grounds at Washington, with ancient scribe in hand, he assumes to those who see him the sacred character of Father Time. And so we say, come with us Uncle Jerry, come where the flowers bloom, come where birds of beautiful plumage sing their living songs, come where the stars beget our pathway. O come where the cliff dwellers climb. Walk with us where the rock-bound lily rooteth in the cloud-capped garden of the gods, where star gold gathers on celestial forests, and the sighing of the wilderness is but the song of the redeemed. To be brief, O pilgrim uncle, come and tarry in Duluth, where the nebular hypothesis is consigned to children, and only the great world problems trickle through the avenues of thought.

A day or two ago The Herald made a few remarks about the Pillsbury wheat now going through Duluth to the East. The Chicago agent of the Associated Press caught the item and sent it broadcast, in the meantime injecting an additional cipher into our statement that Pillsbury had a great part of the year carried 4,000,000 bushels of wheat. As the tenor of the item was to the effect that the big English milling syndicate had lost money on this wheat, Mr. Pillsbury naturally objected when his losses were increased tenfold by the telegraphic dispatch. A Twin city paper interviews him and says: "The figures are the grossest and wildest exaggerations. He has purchased what wheat he has calculated would be required for milling on the market every week of the year and at an average cost below present prices. The total requirements of his mills are over 15,000,000 bushels per annum if the mills were run uninterruptedly. Their purchases have not been in excess of this amount. All the millers in Minneapolis put together have not purchased the amount stated in the dispatch. The great bulk of the wheat has been bought below a dollar a bushel."

When the question was raised against Senator Payne, of Ohio, he showed quite conclusively that he was not interested in the Standard Oil company, and that a large majority of the stock was owned by republicans. It was this that made John A. Logan defend his democratic colleague. Mr. Payne's son and also his son-in-law, Wm. C. Whitney, secretary of the navy under Cleveland, are, however, heavy holders of Standard Oil stock. If the new senators from that state, Brice and whoever his mate may be, can read their titles just as clear, it will be a joyous thing to do.

The wives of three presidents have recently passed away, Madames Tyler, Hayes and Polk, but several ladies of the White House still survive, among them the niece of President Buchanan now white haired and widowed, but still beautiful; the daughter of President Johnson; the sister of President Arthur; the wives of Grant and Garfield; and Mrs. Cleveland, besides the very matronly lady who now fills that important place. The wives of several men who wanted to be president are also still alive though the candidates themselves have joined the majority.

Representatives of all democratic factions met in St. Paul Thursday, with the expectation of a scrap, but they loved each other, and like Jacob and Esau, of biblical romance, the wild and woolly and the smooth and slick fell into each others' arms and wept. Only one thing gives them pain and that is the undigested action of the cucumber party, which, when the grain is gathered and the frost comes, will pass away.

A piece of east end property in Chattanooga purchased a short time ago for $108,000 has been sold back to the original owners for $17,000. Duluth is the one solid, boomless and twinless town. And now is the time to invest. The $130,000,000 of wheat money to arrive in the next ninety days means that we are to experience a material development never before dreamed of.

When two-thirds of the late legislature petition the governor for an extra session and agree to do nothing but appropriate funds for the World's fair, the alliance party might just as well disband. Now is the time for Duluth to raise a $10,000 county fund for a local exhibit. The $50,000 already appropriated will erect the buildings and pay the salaries, and Duluth will do the rest.

Duluth feels the need of banking capital more than any other thing just now. When the wheat begins to move it will demand millions of money, and other enterprises will for the time be limited in their banking accommodations. The big crop now harvesting will so emphasize this fact as to supply our future necessities and in more than one way result in great good to Duluth.

The Polk county campaign for bonds in aid of the Duluth & Dakota railway moves on as well as could be expected this busy season. The farmers have no time just now to investigate the matter and the proposition is less likely to carry than it would be if submitted at some other time. In the winter months such a question would be a snap for them.

The completion of the Winona & Southwestern railroad to Osage, Iowa, was the occasion for an excursion of 500 Osagers to our beautiful Mississippi river sister on Thursday of this week. The Northwest needs still more Southwestern railroad lines. See us grow.

THEIR INNERMOST THOUGHTS.

E. C. Gridley: "Well, I have been watching Duluth and thinking of her for the past two months from a distance, and I can say this to you, if Duluth is not all right, God pity the rest of America. There are any number of men, particularly in the East and South, who are simply waiting for financial matters to straighten out enough to allow them to convert their property into cash, when they will transfer their interests and themselves with it to Duluth.

One who knows him: Ex-State Auditor Whitcomb, whom your telegram yesterday said was in Duluth is living in Denver, an error easy to make in a cable dispatch. He is interested in mines out there and contributes to the support of his divorced wife, who is said to be addicted to gambling.

Otis P. Presbrey, president of the Public Opinion company, Washington: I see some wonderful movements since I was here a year ago. Duluth has a great future, but there is one thing that ought to be attended to by our men. It is to impress upon congress the importance of liberal appropriations for the purpose of securing deep water navigation eastward. I confidently expect to see one of the large cities of the country rapidly built up around the head of the lakes here.

Dun's Trade Report.

R. J. Dun & Co. today say: The prohibition of exports of rye by Russia because of the official declaration that famine is impending, has suddenly affected the grain markets of the whole world. Russia usually exports about 50,000,000 of rye, and men reason that other grain in large quantities will be required. Crop prospects grow brighter every day, and with assurance that the country will not only have enormous supplies of grain, but a market for it at good prices, the business is improving throughout the North. The movement begins close to the farms; country merchants are buying more freely, and their purchases are felt by whole sales and manufacturers.

Trade at most cities shows improvement. At Chicago, improvement is noted in almost every branch of trade except cured meats, wheat receipts being five-fold last year. The Northwest is unusually brisk and country merchants buying very freely. The South is in a very different condition. The great surplus of cotton last year and the prospect of an equally large crop this year, threaten a lower price than producers can stand, and trade and collections are both poor. Improvement in iron is felt at Philadelphia as to the better grades.

Exports of wheat for the past week have been three times last year's, and western receipts average about 1,000,000 bushels daily. The coal concerns have agreed upon an advance of fifteen cents for coking and twenty for steam, to take effect Sept. 1, although the market is still dull, and the shipments since Jan. 1, have been 2,033,091 tons greater than last year.

Foreign trade continues to improve, for while imports decline largely, the exports for the two weeks of August have exceeded by nearly 10 per cent those of the corresponding weeks last year. In the main the interior money markets are in fairly good condition, excepting in the south. If Europe is able to send cash for all the goods it will require this year, it is probable that this country will not lack money long.

Does a Prescription Belong to the Druggist, Physician or Patient?

According to a legal decision, there is one instance where a person pays for a thing, and it is not his.

The patient pays the physician for a prescription, has it filled by the druggist, and the druggist is entitled to keep it. There is a great variety of opinion on this subject, many physicians using blanks like the following prescription given by Dr. A. W. K. Newton, 528 Tremont street, Boston:

Dr. Newton's will retain this recipe and give no copy or repeat unless ordered by Dr. A. W. K. Newton.

Paine's Celery Comp., 3 Bots. Small wine glass four times a day or as directed on bottle in water.

Dr. Newton wrote the prescription for a reporter who presented himself in the role of an invalid, asking the following question:

"Doctor what can you give a man who has lost his appetite, lost his sleep, lost his peace of mind, and to whom life has become a burden?"

"I can give him the decided opinion," answered the physician, "that he is in a pretty serious condition."

"But what can you give him in the shape of advice or relief?"

"And this prescription was the reply. The weak and debilitated condition for which Dr. Newton prescribed this compound is far too common at the present time. The mercury is up to the nineties one week, while the next there is a drop of thirty degrees. And the result is serious illness that would never have come had the system been strengthened and vitalized by the use of Paine's celery compound. It is not a patent medicine, but a vegetable extract that is freely prescribed by physicians.

This compound is no ordinary tonic, sarsaparilla or bitters, but a medicine that cures disease, strengthens nerves and brain, makes pure blood, and gives new strength, new life, and new hope to the weak, the nerveless and the despondent.

REMARKED BY JERE.

The Secretary of Agriculture Talks on the Present Farming Experiments on a Large Scale.

He has Little to Say on Politics But Says the Cabinet is Entirely United.

Crops and the New Departure in the Weather Bureau are Part of His Song.

The benevolent face of Uncle Jere Rusk, ex-governor of Wisconsin, now chief weather dispenser and seed distributor in President Harrison's cabinet, peered over the side of the revenue cutter Andy Johnson as she steamed into port about 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The venerable horse editor was afraid to stay long in a foreign country and in a place so hostile to Wisconsin as he had heard Duluth to be, so he drove to the ferry landing and bled himself away to Superior where he has some friends. A Herald reporter caught him on the way. He had been loafing about Ashland and the Chequamegon hotel, with a run out to the iron mines and down to Milwaukee he said, and had a chance to come up on Secretary Foster's cutter and had done it. "I am delighted with Lake Superior and its cities," he said.

Asked about the apparent success of the Dredge and the discharge of powder in the air, he said: "The first experiment took place in Midland, Texas, only last Sunday, and I have heard an official report, and from it I should judge it was an apparent success. There was surely a good rainfall soon after the appearance of rain here. A second and more careful experiment Sunday will test it more fully. I must say I have been a little skeptical, but congress authorized the experiments and I hope they'll do good. Professor Dredge is very enthusiastic."

"I am looking for great things from the closer union of the weather service and the farmers," continued the external secretary, "and it's a hobby with me that the weather signals may be of the greatest benefit to the farmers and the vesselmen, and extending the signal stations to country sections, and shall make every effort to make the reports full."

"We are having a great crop this fall, and reports from all over the West are very encouraging, and I believe that wheat will have an era of remarkable prosperity. The hail damage is little when the entire country is considered. Wheat will bring a good price, I think. There seem to be indications of a shortage of bread stuffs in the old world, and there will be a great demand for American wheat which will undoubtedly send the prices up. The republican party ought to be given the credit for this unusual crop. It has shouldered the responsibility for all the bad crops since it has been in power, and now it ought to get the credit of it."

"What do you think of this rumored movement of the farmers to hold their wheat?"

"The result of such action is hard to predict, but I believe it would not succeed. The American farmer is too independent. He will not hold his wheat because someone else wants him, and generally his disposition is to sell it at once. Even should he hold it, the combination it is questionable whether it would bring about the desired result."

"About politics the secretary would say that little. He thinks that McKinley will carry Ohio and that the republican party is growing in strength. As to Secretary Blaine's physical condition, he said: "Mr. Blaine is in excellent health to-day and there is no fear of his retirement. He left Washington for a good rest and there is no use of his returning during the hot summer because his presence is not needed the business before the department need not being hampered, I might say further that all this talk about the existence of strained relations between President Harrison and Mr. Blaine is nonsense. The most perfect harmony exists."

TO GET ITS ARMORY.

K Company Will Have an Armory: Several Visits to State Soldiers' K Company, a special armory committee met the like committee of the city last night. It was agreed that the company must have a place to meet, and it was finally decided, after considerable talk, that the city should be asked to give the general levy to raise funds for the construction of the building, issue bonds for the amount necessary. City Attorney Allen is drawing up proposals for bids for ground, to be purchased or leased. Bonds to the extent of $25,000 or $30,000 will be issued. It is intended to make the building not only an armory but a public hall for gatherings of all kinds, something Duluth has long needed.

Capt. De Witt said last night that he had received letters of inquiry as to accommodations that could be made at his residence Sunday at the same time for Capt. Bronson, of Company K, Stillwater, and Capt. Braden, of Company C, St. Paul. Capt. Bronson will come and bring 100 men about Sept. 1. He said there would be no trouble in arranging for the accommodation of the boys for their three days' stay in the hall over police headquarters.

It May be Good Ore.

A second and better vein of ore has been uncovered in the shaft on section 13-35-21, operated by the Diamond Mining company, near Grand Rapids, said the Magnet. Ore was discovered in this shaft last spring, but it turned out to be red ore and a thin vein. The shaft was run through this vein and at a depth of ninety feet the second was struck. Thursday. The ore now found is of the finest quality, in a solid body. It is impossible to estimate at this time the depth and value of this vein, but the indications point to a valuable find.

A Serious Matter.

The late "Sunset" box, so long representing one of the New York City districts in congress, was an inveterate jester. A matter-of-fact friend once wrote the letter, which was a joke, which was that he should quit joking. "Hitch your wagon to a star, and be serious," wrote the would-be mentor. Cos replied, "My wagon is hitched to a dog star, and that would be Sirius, wouldn't it? That must have been an August, for these stars are in the sky, and that was a good enough joke for warm weather. But it is really a serious matter if you are obliged to travel in hot weather, hitch your wagon to a dog star, and that would be Sirius, wouldn't it? EUROPE WILL EAT CORN.

The bull grain speculator is doing all he can—with aid of the farmers' alliance to kill the goose that has laid him a golden egg.

During July our exports of wheat and flour aggregated 13,200,000 bushels, against 7,700,000 bushels in July last year. If this goes on, and there is every reason to think that it should, it will use up a surplus of about 140,000,000 bushels before the next winter wheat crop is ready for eating. The exports are now only restricted by the available freight room, and if vessels had been obtainable the July shipments would have been largely increased as they could easily be if the condition of the country is rightly judged by the crop experts.

Chicago bull manipulators, whose intense excitement sent wheat up fifteen cents last week, see three things; that the crop of Europe is so short that statistics prove the foreigner will need all we can export, that he is buying and shipping largely now, and that our own crop will show a surplus of from 180,000,000 to 200,000,000 bushels, while Canada can send out a tenth as much more. This is in face of a European shortage of 400,000,000 bushels, so say the speculators, even our great crop will not keep Europe from starvation.

But suppose the people of the continent cannot afford to buy wheat, and the figures which the Chicago speculators would put it, will soon force such a condition. Starvation will not result. In modern times starvation where there are railroads is impossible on a large scale. If wheat is deficient other grains, frosts, or other foods, are obtainable. Two years ago this country sent abroad 100,000,000 bushels of corn, it can readily double that amount on the crop of 1891, but cannot send it till next spring. Owing to the consumption of root crops in place of wheat by the people of Europe the consumption of grain has varied as much as two bushels per capita in France without any approach to a starvation crisis. If there should be such a variation this year, and too high a price here would cause it quickly enough, 200,000,000 people would neutralize the entire shortage of the continent and leave us nothing to export and with a surplus enough to drop wheat to a ruinous price.

The farmers' alliance and the bull manipulators are working in harmony now, one to aid the other in a speculative advance. One does not know and the other does not care that their success would mean desolation to our own farms. The real difficulty in Europe is not fear of starvation, but to find money to buy wheat supplies. Industries in the United Kingdom, France and Germany are depressed and the question of providing funds to buy hundreds of millions of wheat is a serious one. That any abnormal rise here will cut off exports was shown Saturday when great purchases made in the morning for European shipment were sold back in the afternoon.

MONROE BEFORE THE NAST.

The appointment of Monroe Nichols to the registration of the Duluth land office is announced on what seems to be the most reliable information—the word of President Harrison himself. The fight has been a long and bitter one carried on by local factions in the party, and attracting the attention of the whole state. The outcome, though not satisfactory to all concerned, will be welcomed by the general public as any solution of the case would be, and peace will reign where war so recently unfurled his wrinkled front.

The Herald is not a partisan paper and can therefore speak with more hopeful regard and fatherly affection in the matter than others are wont to do. Some time ago we urged that if Senator Davis was really concerned in his advocacy of Mr. Nichols' appointment, the President now seeking a re-election would not turn the toga-wearer down. Soon thereafter an Arabian tale was unfolded in the privacy of the presidential closet, and it looked as if the senator might not longer press his claim, but perhaps would choose another from his rosary of jewels. The sequel, however, shows that he was loyal to his freshwater soldier, whose paternal ancestor in the years gone by performed for him some act of unrequited love. Thus the bread cast upon the water has returned after many years, and a generous act reflects its kindly light through a generation.

To those in whose bosoms the milk of human kindness is curdled just a little,

we need say but a word. Harbor in your heart no evil thought, no remorseless wish, no protege of passion. The fruits of politics are not always sweet. The democracy gave you the earth and surely you ought not to quarrel over a local land office. Matthew Stanley Quay gained a great victory in '88 and these are the spoils. If one is made glad with persimmons pie and another all puffed up with prunes, remember that the biblical reward is not always the same. They who came to the vineyard at the eleventh hour received just as much as they who toiled all day, on the divine principle that a little eleven leaves the whole lump. And so we find that charity and forgiveness are the largest ingredients in the mystic power that lifts mortals to the skies. He not then ready to drag angels down, but hear in silent sorrow your unmeasured grief, knowing that eternal justice must triumph in the end, and that a world not warmed with a register is yet beyond.

AN IMPORTANT POST.

The Duluth land office registers is one of the most important offices in the state. Unfortunately the national mining laws were never extended to Minnesota, and therefore questions of title to vast iron properties which the law did not contemplate should be taken as homesteads or pre-emptions came before the local land office as the court of original jurisdiction. A case is now being heard in which millions of dollars are involved and the shrewdest legal talent is employed to give color to different claims.

Necessarily follows that the register should be a man of judicial mind, in whose official honor the public has an abiding confidence. The gentleman who has just been named to fill the vacancy caused by Col. Colville's resignation has an opportunity, through wise and impartial rulings, to make a record that will secure his future advancement and prove a perpetual source of personal gratification. He should be fair and fearless in his rulings, knowing neither friend nor foe, but dealing out equal and exact justice to one and all whether rich or poor. If Monroe Nichols pursues such a course, and we trust he may, he will confound those who have so bitterly opposed him, and demonstrate his fitness for the responsible post which all concede his ability to fill. It has been said he is the tool of the Minnesota Iron company, and perhaps that is why some have pictured him to the President as black as a spade, but all will be glad if he proves a pick to find the title flaws. During the long fight made against him, he has maintained a Quakerlike quietude that demonstrates his coolness, and now that the appointment is made the mainly thing to do is to give him a chance to show his judicial ermine.

The Sunday morning News clipped and commented on what it evidently deemed a very bright editorial article from Saturday's Herald. Our contemporary would save time and improve the character of its contents by copying more freely from our vesperian chimes. Of course Bishop Bowen, hailing from Sleepy Eye, cannot grasp the thought of the consumptive of root crops in place of wheat by the people of Europe the consumption of grain has varied as much as two bushels per capita in France without any approach to a starvation crisis. If there should be such a variation this year, and too high a price here would cause it quickly enough, 200,000,000 people would neutralize the entire shortage of the continent and leave us nothing to export and with a surplus enough to drop wheat to a ruinous price. The farmers' alliance and the bull manipulators are working in harmony now, one to aid the other in a speculative advance. That any abnormal rise here will cut off exports was shown Saturday when great purchases made in the morning for European shipment were sold back in the afternoon.

The death of Congressman John R. Gamble, of South Dakota, removes one of the ablest and most genial men of the Western delegations. A special election will be held to fill the vacancy, and it is not improbable that in the haste for the job Mr. Gifford, who has been in Washington several terms, may be again returned.

SENATOR CALLIERS BECK, of Ohio, chief of the national committee of his party, will, before the beginning of the next campaign, step down and out of the democratic high chair.

WHO'S BEHIND IT?

Truax & Co. Have a Statement and Some Questions.

To the Editor of The Herald.
The people of the United States are supposed to be lovers of justice and respect for the law. We wish most respectfully to make one appeal from the persistent and malicious persecution we have been subjected to regarding our connection with this unfortunate Forrestal Bros. business.

The position simply is that they, Forrestal Bros., took eight different contracts from the city some fifteen months ago, at ruinous prices. Everyone conversant with the facts knew the work could not be performed at their agreed prices and the result was they failed. The several contracts were assigned to the bondsmen, Henry H. Bell and others, to complete. Shortly after this, viz. Sept. 27, 1890, the bondsmen appointed A. H. Truax and Zimmerman & Moore under the name of A. H. Truax & Co., their agents to do the work for them. They, Truax & Co., did not agree to do the work at any stipulated price and therefore are not in any sense contractors. They were to receive as compensation for their time in superintending the business, and the use of their machinery, stone quarry, etc., a commission of 5 per cent of the total amount earned after they took charge of the work, said amount to be established by the city engineer from prices agreed upon by some one else. It makes no difference what the cost of the same was, the commission was only payable on what the engineer estimated as earned. We (Truax & Co.) claim to have honestly and faithfully performed our duties under the agency agreement, and in accordance with our agreement and have rightly stated our willingness to meet the most rigid examination.

What possible object our enemies have in continuing to misrepresent our position as contractors we are not, also they feel no interest in and suborners of witnesses, we do not know and cannot imagine. Their action of course can have no effect, and that to cripple our credit financially otherwise. The writer has done an extensive business ever since he came out of the army in 1862. He feels just pride in his record for honesty, truthfulness and fair dealing, which has never heretofore been assailed. He still denies any one to show a single crooked or fraudulent transaction in his whole career, public, private or corporate. Our time has been wasted in the time in form as those used for the last six years. Every one of them represents exactly what he says it does, and is for work accounted for to the street commissioner. Why, because one is maliciously inclined with ink and types at their disposal, should we be held up to public execration for some imaginary discrepancy, while we are ready to prove every claim affecting our integrity, to be false.

Why are we not allowed to hire or discharge dishonest or incompetent men in our capacity as overseers without being called to public account for our acts? Who are we responsible to except to the parties who made us their agents and to whom we must settle with when the proper time comes? Where is the animus of the whole thing?

Who is it that is backing up these outrages? Yours, etc., A. H. TRUAX & CO.

Postal Savings Banks.

To the Editor of The Herald.
While Messrs. Sherman and Foster are splitting hairs on financial systems and national banking, there seems to me to be a more important matter of security to the people of the country, and that is the honesty that one reads about and the bogus paid up capital of bankers. It is plain that the poor man who by carefulness, sweat and even his blood—saves a little for the day of want and for the growing necessities of his family can be under the management of a legally robbed of his hard earned savings. Now, I say, while this state of things exists there is no justice. "Justice" may take the place of law, if law cannot reach as high as justice. Why not do as they do in Great Britain? They have banks directly connected with the government called government savings banks, which never fail to give a small dividend, but your money is secure. Hence all the money of small depositors is placed there.

GROCER KNEW HOW.

How a New York Wholesaler Managed to Save a Child's Life.

That statement was made by William Tuttle, a merchant at Onondaga, Oswego county, Mich. "When our baby, Mabel Ruth," he continued, "was a week old she had a caked mouth, and was so weak that the nurse said she could not live an hour."

"She vomited everything taken into her stomach, and we had faint hopes of her living. We tried food of different kinds to no purpose, until finally, when sending an order to Thurber, Whyland & Co., the great New York wholesale grocers, I ordered the best infant food made."

"Through unerring judgment and a kind providence, they sent me lactated food, and it gave my child health and strength. Little Mabel is not yet a year old, but she is happy and hearty, and bids fair to live and sing the praises of lactated food herself some day."

Mothers should learn that lactated food is a pure food, and is manufactured under the personal supervision of a professor in the medical department of the University of Vermont. Its purity, uniformity, and reliability of the product is thus assured.

Many a household it is the only diet of the bright baby that is the pride of all the family. And in a large number of instances the child owes its very life to the use of this food. It makes firm flesh, good blood and healthy bones, while it prevents the summer dangers that are carrying off the little children at such a frightful rate. It is economical, though of course that is a lesser consideration, for no true mother would count the cost when buying the only thing that would save her baby's life.

BULLS LESS RAMPANT

Wheat at all Markets, While It Goes Wild, Comes Down Again and Few are Hurt Thereby.

Sales of Grain on the Duluth Market are Very Large and Intense Excitement Prevails Everywhere.

France Sends Out a Bull Document: the Week's Local Storage Market Shows Little Wheat Here.

Harvesting is well under way all over the Northwest and the promise of a big crop is being more than fulfilled. Instead of an average fifteen to twenty bushels to the acre, wheat is turning out from twenty-five to thirty bushels, and the increased yield from an increased acreage makes 150,000,000 bushels the minimum product for the Dakotas and Minnesota. Other grains are close to wheat, oats especially turning out well. There is great trouble being experienced for labor to handle the immense crop and the railroads are hard at work preparing to handle the grain.

THE LOCAL MARKET.
Wheat Here Shows the Fearful Excitement of Saturday.

The wheat market opened here this morning under suppressed excitement at 6 1/4 over Saturday's close for September 1 northern. After a pause in which the crowd turned sellers, prices were offered down from $1.08 1/2 to $1.02 1/2 for September. At noon prices broke again. New York and Chicago both report foreign large sellers of recent purchases, and pay better profit to shippers than Baltimore also wires foreigners are cancelling shipping orders and reselling there. Late cables report excitement, subsiding easier markets.

Cash 1 hard closed at $1.10; cash 1 northern, $1.08; cash 2 northern, $1.04; September 1 hard closed $1.02; September 1 northern opened at $1.08 1/2, declined to $1.08 1/2 with active trading, broke 66 per bu to $1.02 1/4, recovered to $1.02 1/4 and off to $1.01 1/2. It closed at 99 1/4. December 1 northern ruled very dull, closed at 99 1/4.

CHICAGO WILD.
But the Prices of Wheat Drop off as Suddenly as They Rise.

CHICAGO, Aug. 17.—The exciting scenes of Saturday were repeated on the board of trade today. The old phrase "bedlam broke loose" would scarcely do justice to the picture that was presented within a few minutes after the gong had sounded the signal that operations for the day were in order.

"If wheat goes much higher," said one of the heavy operators, "it will be a bad day for the smaller and weaker fry. They will be badly shaken up and some of the big traders will be hit as well."

Just as the gong sounded there was a rush of bareheaded and coatless men for the wheat pit, and pandemonium was inaugurated. The horse shouts and shrill cries could be heard far outside of the big building. December wheat which closed at $1.08 Saturday, opened at $1.09, went to $1.10, then to $1.14 in as many seconds and then fell back to $1.06. Everybody wanted to buy but there was little to sell. What there was of it was long wheat, which pays a big profit and is quickly realized upon. Short selling is scarce.

The corn pit was in sympathy with its neighbor, the shorts bidding wildly in their efforts to cover. September opened at 55c and like wheat went up three points, then retreating to 67 1/4 c. Liverpool is quiet at 26 1/4 higher. Receipts, 502 cars and the out inspection 223,000 bu.

There were no failures, everybody going through the clearing house after the opening session, but the losses were very heavy in many cases. Had not the bulls been afraid to push things the market might have gone to $1.20 and there would have been failures by the score. Very few sales were reported and the commission houses refused to take new orders.

The close was as follows: Wheat—December, $1.03; August, $1.02 1/2; September, $1.04; Corn—August, 66c; September, 65 1/4 c; Oats—August, 29 1/2 c; September, 29 1/4 c. Pork—September, $9.92 1/2. Lard—September, $6.06. Ribs—September, $6.02 1/2.

New York Wheat.
New York, Aug. 17.—At 11 a. m. the wheat market was perfectly wild. December opened 117 1/2. Trading is enormous. Corn is excited, September 73 1/2. At noon the market was much quieter; September wheat 114; December 116 1/2. Corn dull but firm; September 72.

A London special says wheat is dearer and the high prices for American stuff are checking import business.

Closing prices were: Wheat, August, $1.11 1/2; September, $1.11 1/2; October, $1.14 1/2. Corn: August, 75 1/2 c; September, 73 1/2 c; October, 72 c.

Minneapolis' Wild Market.
MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 18.—There was a lively scene on change this morning. When wheat started in at $1.04, swung gradually up to $1.08 and then began a downward whirl that at noon landed at an even dollar, speculators were greatly excited and bidding was without any basis as to value. The close was: No. 1 hard on track, $1.01 @ 1.06; No. 1 northern, August, 98c; September, 97 1/2 c; December, 96c; on track, 98c @ $1.02; No. 2 northern, on track, 96c @ 98c.

SOME GREAT BALL NEWS

The Western Association Will Wipe Out all Percentages and Start the Game Anew With Six Clubs.

Duluth is Unquestionably in It for the Championship, and a Series With the National.

Milwaukee Settled in the American; Keeps All Players Wanted But Kelly, Who is Boston's.

It is settled that it will be a six club Western association for the balance of the season, with Denver following Milwaukee into the cold world.

At a meeting held in Minneapolis this afternoon, so a private telegram from Manager Watkins informs The Herald, it was thought best to start the clubs fresh, that is to wipe out the standing of the season date, starting all per cent ages new. This, indeed, is about all that can be done for with Milwaukee and Denver out it would be almost impossible to fix up back percentages satisfactorily.

Starting thus fresh Duluth has as good a chance as any other to win the pennant and with her present men in the field and a new pitcher in place of McHale has odds in her favor for the rag.

It is now stated that $2500 raised can do the business and help the membership in the league. This it certainly ought to be possible to raise, especially as the membership and players are worth money. Next year the league will probably be increased to eight clubs, when Duluth's place, if she does not fall by the wayside now, will be assured, especially as the city is conceded a good ball town.

It should be remembered in this connection that the play of a series of games for the world's championship will occur at the close of the ball season between the pennant winners of the National and Western leagues, the American association decided a private game with Milwaukee. There was no game at Milwaukee Sunday, Milwaukee's only chance of failing to go and give Milwaukee gate receipts to start her in the pirate association.

The securing of Cincinnati's franchise by Milwaukee will be formally arranged at a meeting of association magnates at St. Louis tonight. The best players from the two teams will be retained with the exception of Mike Kelly, who will go to the Boston association team. This will make the Milwaukee team one of the most formidable in the country.

THE NEW PIRATE.
Milwaukee Gets Her Berth in the American Association After All.
St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 7.—It is now settled beyond all question that the Milwaukee club will enter the American association and will do so by the purchase of Cincinnati. The price agreed upon is not given out, but President Gillette, of Milwaukee, to pay put up $6000 cash and the balance in notes. As the agent of a majority of the clubs has been given, tonight's meeting will be a mere formality.

Of the Cincinnati club, Milwaukee gets Seery, Dwyer, Carney and Canavan; Washington secured Marr, Vaughn and Mains and "King Kelly" goes to the Boston association team. Manager Hancock has been signed to manage the team.

New Duluth!

HAVE you seen New Duluth lately? If you have not, there is a surprise in store for you which you can gratify by calling for a Ticket at our office. Let us enumerate a few of the things New Duluth has accomplished since it sprang from a wilderness nine months ago; then compare this with any other new place at the head of the lakes:

EIGHT Manufacturing Plants are secured. Some are in operation, others in course of construction. In all they will employ 1500 men.

THE BUILDINGS of these manufactories will cover fully 10 acres of ground. Nearly all of them are built of brick and stone.

A CENSUS recently taken showed 600 bona fide residents of New Duluth.

HOUSES for all of these have been built and new ones are being erected as fast as workmen can do it.

A DEPOT to cost $2500 is now under way.

A BANK is about to be established.

TWO CHURCHES are in course of construction.

A LODGE of Knights of Pythias with thirty members has been instituted, and a lodge of Free Masons is being formed.

THE RATE per car for lumber from New Duluth has been reduced from $8.00 to $5.00.

THE RAILROAD track from Duluth to New Duluth is being ballasted the entire way, new rails are being laid and several miles of new bridges built, in order to secure fast time for the new suburban trains.

THESE are but a few points. To get an adequate idea you must visit the place. These points may show the careful investor, however, that New Duluth investments are safe. Those who know are convinced that they are profitable as well.

Mrs. Ford, of Oklahoma, Burned to Death by a Gasoline Explosion.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Aug. 18.—A path of smoldering ruins, two blocks wide and six blocks long, extending from Bay street up to Beaver street, and one block on each side, is the result of a fire which started at midnight. It caught on R. D. Knight & Co.'s grocery, adjoining the large Hubbard building, and in a very short time the whole block was a mass of flames. Thence they were carried across to the Tremont hotel, thence to the Seminole club. The fire spread on all sides, being fanned by a stiff breeze. The firemen worked heroically throughout, but nothing could stay the flames until exhausted for want of material. They were stopped at Beaver street on the north, at Laura on the west and at Ocean street on the east. Over twenty-five business houses are burned and over forty dwellings. Loss about $1,000,000. Insurance about one half.

It is not yet known whether all who were in the building escaped with their lives.

The store of Curtis & Rand, hardware merchants, soon caught fire and was wrecked. Several buildings on the opposite side of the street were badly damaged. The total loss will run up over $300,000. The fire is supposed to have been started by electric light wires.

Mr. Thyson expects to resume business in a few days.

Milwaukee's Epidemic.

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 18.—So alarming has become the increase of scarlet fever among the patients of the Milwaukee county insane asylum that the institution has been thoroughly quarantined. TROUBLE FEARED.

A Hostile Demonstration Looked for in Chinese Waters Any Day.

SHANG HAI, Aug. 18.—A serious state of affairs exists in China and the combined fleets of the powers may be called upon at any moment to take effective action.

The tension existing between the Chinese and foreign ministers is increasing. The former are obstinate in refusal to redress injury done to foreigners during recent riots. The foreign ministers have been compelled to inform the Chinese government that a joint naval demonstration of an effective nature, in which the French, American, British and German squadrons will take part, will be ordered in the near future unless speedy reparation is made of the injuries, outrages and abuses complained of.

Naturally the foreign population of this city, being aware of the firm stand taken, and having knowledge of the ultimatum sent to the Chinese government, is in a state of anxious expectation.

EIGHTY KILLED.

A Falling Bridge Sends Eighty to Death; Hayti's New Government.

PORT AU PRINCE, Aug. 18.—A terrible accident occurred here last Saturday. Recent storms had swollen the mountain streams and in consequence the river St. Marks overflowed its banks. A large number of natives were assembled on the stone bridge over the river watching the raging torrent, when the foundations became undermined by the action of the water and the structure tumbled into the river, carrying many people with it. The fortunate ones managed to reach the bank after a hard struggle, but all of the others, some eighty in number, were swept along and their dead bodies were carried out to sea.

IS NOT A PARTY

President of the Virginia Alliance Says it is Not a Political Party.

But He Has the Usual Number of Things He Wants From the Government.

The Farmers of That State Are Tied to the Subtreasury Fintasma.

RICHMOND, Va., Aug. 18.—The Virginia state alliance was called to order today at noon. The attendance was large.

President Page in his annual address said the alliance was a combination against trusts and that those who opposed and ridiculed its efforts for financial relief offered no remedy. He urged the repeal of the national banking laws and advocated the sub-treasury plan. The government always rushed to the aid of Wall street, and yet it denied aid to farmers. Mr. Page urged a strong fight on railroads and made a strong plea for the settlement of the state debt. To the question now asked with seeming anxiety by the politicians and press as to what party the farmers alliance belongs he would answer: "We are not a political party. We have a platform of principles to which we invite the aid and co-operation of all, and the time has arrived when our interests demand that we should do our best to induce the political party of which are members to assist us. We ought not to subordinate the obligations we have assumed to the dictates of those who prefer party to principle."

In conclusion, he urged standing by the local platform. After the appointment of committees a recess was taken till evening.

The street railway company will run a special car for the Hardy school. Leaving the barn at a stated hour it will carry the pupils to the school without transfer.

The children of the kindergarten and primary departments will be accompanied by a teacher and from the school.

The Wilburs still continue to draw large houses at the Lyceum nightly.

"The Grange" is one of the prettiest operas on the stage, and Manager Haycock is taking great pains with the stage settings.

He believes nothing will disgust a refined audience more than a stage that is not properly set.

A. M. Miller Jr. has resigned his position as manager of Temple opera and has gone to New York, where he takes charge of the "Faust Up to Date" company, which appeared in Duluth last season. A successor of Mr. Miller will be selected soon.

Mark G. Lewis, the efficient treasurer, who has had practical charge at the Temple for some time, is now at the head. Ever since Mr. Miller came here, six years ago, as a reporter for The Herald, he has had his full share of friends, won by his kindly disposition and fairness. He has made a successful manager and Duluth is sorry to lose him.

OFFERS TO TIMOTHY.

The Hopkins Young Man and the Big Will Suit.

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—The Journal says it is rumored that C. P. Huntington and others interested in the Southern Pacific have made overtures to compromise the Scarles-Hopkins will controversy by a payment of $5,000,000 to Timothy Hopkins. John A. Hoar, the attorney contesting the will, left for the East last night.

Just what action Timothy Hopkins may take regarding the will of his adopted mother is not definitely known, but he cannot enter an appeal from the decision of the probate court until Sept. 7, as the will will not be probated till that date. It is expected that he will allow the will to be probated and then enter his appeal, which of course means one of the most interesting will contests of recent years.

Witnesses Held.

Deputy Sheriff Dan Garrison, of Ely, today brought to Duluth Isaac Isaacson and Wm. Huhtala, the men who were recently shot by Elias Hendrickson. They were found at the depot with their trunks, were arrested and taken before the village justice and ordered committed to the county jail in default of $300 bail.

Will Bond a Warehouse.

Acting Secretary Nettleton has approved the application of the St. Paul & Duluth railroad for permission to bond as a warehouse the premises known as warehouse B, on the St. Paul & Duluth's slip No. 1.

This is His Answer.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I am well aware of the fact that I am at a disadvantage in attempting to compete in a war of words with parties controlling a newspaper, but my family and reputation, both of which are dear to me, are about all that I possess in this world, and it ought not to be considered a heinous crime or a foolish act to endeavor by any legitimate means to repel what I consider an unjust assault.

This is all I have done by endeavoring to state facts regarding the situation not generally known, in order that unjust judgment might not be hastily made.

The answer was made in my own name because in most cases I O. K. d. the bills and was the only one named or known in the charges.

Nearly all the questions asked in the Tribune of this date have been answered and stated in my communications and reports heretofore made.

I am willing to answer and explain them again, also all other questions pertinent to the matters in dispute, and doubtless will, at the proper time, but under oath and before a court, where it is to be hoped they will have some weight.

MILLIONS IN LOSSES

Jacksonville, Fla., Has a Fire That Wipes Out a Million in Property.

Other Blazes Elsewhere Make the Day's Loss Almost a Round Two Millions.

Mrs. Ford, of Oklahoma, Burned to Death by a Gasoline Explosion.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Aug. 18.—Apath of shrouding ruins, two blocks wide and six blocks long, extending from Bay street up to Beaver street, and one block on each side, is the result of a fire which started at midnight. It caught on R. D. Knight & Co.'s grocery, adjoining the large Hubbard building, and in a very short time the whole block was a mass of flames. Thence they were carried across to the Tremont hotel, thence to the Seminole club. The fire spread on all sides being fanned by a stiff breeze. The firemen worked heroically throughout, but nothing could stay the flames until exhausted for want of material. They were stopped at Beaver street on the north, at Laura on the west and at Ocean street on the east. Over twenty-five business houses are burned and over forty dwellings. Loss about $1,000,000. Insurance about one half.

OVER $100,000 LOSS.

A big Dry Goods Fire in Texas, Several are Injured.
WACO, Texas, Aug. 18.—A disastrous fire has occurred in this city. The flames started in the dry goods store of Goldstein & Michael and spread rapidly. The place was filled with customers on the three floors and they became panic stricken. Several leaped from the windows and were seriously injured. It is not yet known whether all who were in the building escaped with their lives.

The store of Curtis & Rand, hardware merchants, soon caught fire and was wrecked. Several buildings on the opposite side of the street were badly damaged. The total loss will run up over $300,000. The fire is supposed to have been started by electric light wires.

Other Fires.

St. Louis, Aug. 18.—This morning at 5 o'clock an explosion in the Missouri Distilling company, corner of Barton & DeKalb, set fire to their warehouse and damaged it to the extent of $20,000. Chas. Miller, the watchman, was badly burned.

St. Louis—Lightning struck the J. H. Pocock car factory, 929-930 North Second street. The entire establishment was burned, causing a loss of $125,000; insured for $60,000. The flames spread to the factory's pickle house, which caused a total loss. Todd & Stanley Mill Furniture company's fourth floor was burned; loss, $5000.

Leadville, Colo.—A lead mine, in which St. Louis and Chicago capitalists are interested, and which is known as the Louisville, was set on fire by the explosion of a lamp last night. Engine and shaft houses were burned. Loss, $31,000.

Boston—The Damon Iron works were burned. Loss $200,000 partially insured. Kendall's machine works near by were also burned.

Oklahoma City—The residence of John Ford was destroyed by fire last evening, and Mrs. Ford perished in the flames. It originated from the explosion of a can of gasoline which Mrs. Ford was handling.

Boston—Putnam & Co.'s mattress manufactory is burning. One woman employee is believed to have been burned to death.

St. Louis Trades One More.

St. Louis, Aug. 18.—Trading in futures was resumed this morning. There was no excitement, and unless a repetition of Monday's flurry occurs no serious trouble will result. The creditors of Thyson agreed upon a settlement of $101 for September and October, and $101 for December wheat, and September corn at 57½c. Mr. Thyson expects to resume business in a few days.

Milwaukee's Epidemic.
MILWAUKEE, Aug. 18.—So alarming has become the increase of scarlet fever among the patients of the Milwaukee county insane asylum that the institution has been thoroughly quarantined. Twenty-eight cases were reported there last evening, but thus far there has been no death. The afflicted ones are being isolated as much as possible in the attempt to check the spread of the disease.

TROUBLE FEARED.

A Hostile Demonstration Looked for in Chinese Waters Any Day.

SHANG HAI, Aug. 18.—A serious state of affairs exists in China and the combined fleets of the powers may be called upon at any moment to take effective action against the Chinese government. The tension existing between the Chinese and foreign ministers is increasing. The former are obstinate in refusal to redress the injury done to foreigners during recent riots. The foreign ministers have been compelled to inform the Chinese government that a joint naval demonstration of an effective nature, in which the French, American, British and German squadrons will take part, will be ordered in the near future unless speedy reparation is made of the injuries, outrages and abuses complained of. Naturally, the foreign population of this city, being aware of the firm stand taken, and having knowledge of the ultimatum sent to the Chinese government, is in a state of anxious expectation.

EIGHTY KILLED.

A Falling Bridge Sends Eighty to Death; Hayti's New Government.

PORT AU PRINCE, Aug. 18.—A terrible accident occurred here last Saturday. Recent storms had swollen the mountain streams and in consequence the river St. Marks overflowed its banks. A large number of natives were assembled on the stone bridge over the river watching the raging torrent when the foundations became undermined by the action of the water and the structure tumbled into the river, carrying many people with it. The fortunate ones managed to reach the bank after a hard struggle, but all of the others, some eighty in number, were swept along and their dead bodies were carried out to sea.

Not Close Enough for That.

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—The new rifle which Russia has adopted is of a caliber different from the French army rifle. The fact is considered significant. If the alliance between France and Russia were perfect the new Russian weapon would doubtless have been made to conform with the French arm. Such conformity would be of immense advantage to allied armies.

Loss, a Climate-Gain, a Fertile Land.

IS NOT A PARTY

President of the Virginia Alliance Says it is Not a Political Party.

But He Has the Usual Number of Things He Wants From the Government.

The Farmers of That State Are Tied to the Subtreasury Plan.

RICHMOND, Va., Aug. 18.—The Virginia state alliance was called to order today at noon. The attendance was large.

President Page in his annual address said the alliance was a combination against trusts and that those who opposed and ridiculed its efforts for financial relief offered no remedy. He urged the repeal of the national banking laws and advocated the sub-treasury plan. The government always rushed to the aid of Wall street, and yet it denied aid to farmers. Mr. Page urged a strong fight on railroads and made a strong plea for the settlement of the state debt.

To the question now asked with seeming anxiety by the politicians and press as to what party the farmers alliance belongs he would answer: "We are not a political party. We have a platform of principles to which we invite the aid and co-operation of all, and the time has arrived when our interests demand that we should do our best to induce the political party of which are members to assist us. Yet we ought not to subordinate the obligations we have assumed to the dictates of those who prefer party to principle."

In conclusion, he urged standing by the local platform. After the appointment of committees a recess was taken till evening.

RAISE THE ESTIMATES

Fargo Telegraphic Advises Are to the Effect That Former Crop Estimates Should be Raised Considerably.

Some of the Best Duluth Authorities Now Look for a Local Handling of Fifty Million Bushels.

Wheat at Duluth Today is Full and Lower: The Local Flour Report: News of Outside Markets.

All sections clear; no rain yesterday. Fargo same; 60 degrees above. Cutting hay has commenced on nearly every farm in Cass county. Those who two weeks ago predicted an average yield in the county of 18 bushels now say 22 to 25.

George Rupley, superintendent of the two leading elevator companies, received a telegram from Crookston this morning saying: "Clear and cool. Ideal harvesting weather."

A Crookston special says the weather is cool and clear, perfect for harvesting and that the crop is running fully up to the highest expectations all over the county.

Officials of the Duluth Elevator company are raising their figures of the probable receipts here for the crop, and this afternoon put the figure at 50,000,000 bushels, which would be a bagatelle of 7,000,000 more than double the biggest receipts Duluth has ever had. Most grain men, however, are a little more conservative in their estimates, and look upon The Herald's figures of 40,000,000 made a few days ago as nearer right. Time alone, however, will determine.

140 IS LOW-WATER MARK.

Col. Rogers Estimates the Yield as at Least 140,000,000 Bushels.

The yield of wheat in Minnesota and the Dakotas will be at least 140,000,000 bushels. These figures were made by Col. G. D. Rogers, editor of the Minneapolis Market Record, who is recognized as one of the most competent crop statisticians in the Northwest.

The estimate of 140,000,000 is made with the proviso that the average yield falls below the present showing; if not, then there will be from 150,000,000 to 160,000,000. The threshings up to date would indicate a yield of at least 150,000,000, but the supposition is that the threshings have happened to be on the most favorable ground, and that there are places not so good that will bring down the average.

On this estimate the estimated yield by states will be as follows: Minnesota, 58,000,000 bushels; North Dakota, 46,000,000; South Dakota, 36,000,000 bushels. These figures show a yield for North and South Dakota within 900,000 of what the three states raised last year, and points emphatically to the great season of prosperity that this is for the farmers.

J. F. Gage, of Fargo, superintendent of the Northern Pacific Elevator company in North Dakota, tells the Minneapolis Journal that he estimates the average yield of North Dakota at twenty bushels per acre, which would mean thirty to forty bushels in the best fields. This estimate would probably bring the yield of North Dakota a little under the foregoing total for that state, but the difference, if any, would be likely to be made up in Minnesota. The crop of North Dakota must of necessity involve a guess at this point, depending on the yield in the state is thought to be about 1,000,000 bushels, and this would figure in the average. The Red River valley is not quite as good as the uplands this year.

Local Market.

Wheat opened easy and lower. First trading was in September at 3c below last night's close. Market quiet and irregular, advancing 1/2c on early business. A fair volume of business was reported at slowly declining prices. New York wires that most of the export houses have reselling orders this morning. Late cables from Paris say rain continues in France, impeding the harvest, also one from London, saying that Russia will prohibit the exportation of wheat as well as rye. Wheat on passage, decrease 1/2c. Corn, decrease 1/2c.

Cash 1 hard closed at $1.00. Cash 1 northern closed at $1.07. Cash 2 northern closed at $1.03. August closed at 97 1/2c for 1 hard and 97 1/2c for 1 northern. September 1 hard closed at 97 1/2c. Louisville & Nashville advanced in the early dealings 1 per cent and Chicago gas union 1/4. At noon the advance of early dealings was regained and figures for the general list were 1/4 to 1 per cent higher than those of yesterday.

Chicago Wheat.

CHICAGO, Aug. 18.—Wheat opens quiet and gives very little evidence of yesterday's tremendous excitement. Domestic markets all start off easier and Liverpool cables show a decline of 1 1/2 pence there in spot and 2 1/2 pence in futures. Trade has been slow and the feeling is inclined to weakness. December wheat opened at $1.03, sold at $1.03 1/2, fell to $1.02 1/2. Local receipts were 659 cars and the out inspection 216,000 bu. Corn quiet and weak. September opened at 63c, sold off to 63 1/2c. Not much business passing as yet. Local receipts were 673 cars and the out inspection 255,000 bu. Oats quiet at 29 1/2c for September and 32 1/2c for May. Local receipts 467 cars. Rye has had a big slump. September closed last

Social Notes.

The Kokokoko club gives a dance and reception at the grounds on Park Point this evening.
A lawn social will be given this evening at the residence of E. G. Swanstrom, 2118 West First street, for the benefit of Grace Methodist church.
The Saturday night party of the Chantrelle club was a brilliant success. About 150 guests were present and the pine woods about the club house presented a beautiful appearance, brilliantly lighted and animated by the presence of so many young people. A program for a conversational was made out but it was not closely followed and the party was, as such an affair had to be, unconventional. It was one of the pleasantest parties of the year, and the club is to be congratulated on its success.

The Jolly Pathfinders' Annual.
The Jolly Pathfinders' camping party, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schell, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Fee, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fee, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Smith, Mrs. Friell, Mrs. Conrad, Mr. and Mrs. Horne, Miss Laycock, Miss Conrad, Miss Siler and Messrs. Archie Fee, E. E. Wake, H. Siler, J. Buxton, Roddie and John McGregor, is located on the west bank of Iron river, overlooking the lake, and a jollier party can't be found. The little town of white tents forms quite a pretty picture, so the passengers on the steamer Barker thought as they approached the river Monday morning.

The water is now so high that the Barker can get into the river. All friends of the Pathfinders wishing to visit the camp will receive a hearty welcome. Over 200 birch bark invitations are now out for a grand reception to be given next Monday. Photographer Piper left this morning on the Barker with his outfit to photograph the party and grounds.

THE PLAYERS ARE PAID

And the Game Will Continue as Soon as the New Schedule Can be Made Out at Today's Meeting.

The Late and Lamented Troubles Fade Into a Mere Episode of Slight Unpleasantness.

Considerable Feeling Over Description Yesterday of Some of the Weaker Members of the Team.

Manager Watkins, of the Duluth baseball team came up from Minneapolis last night and left a few hours later for the Flour City, where a meeting is to be held today to arrange the schedule for the new league. The boys will be paid tonight for services up to Aug. 1, and on Thursday night they will receive what is due up to the 15th of August. All of the delinquents except Baldwin made their appearance at Recreation Park this morning to practice and it is expected that he will turn up at this afternoon's practice.

Milwaukee was to have played here today and tomorrow and so there will be no game before Thursday. It is believed that on Thursday the new series of games will open here, but what team will play is not known.

One of the best players in the Duluth team was thoroughly disgusted this morning over the action of the four men who went back on Duluth yesterday. "Of course," said he, "they had a right to do it, because they had not been paid, but their action was calculated to break the team up. They were the very men whose playing has not been such as would secure the positions elsewhere. The men who could secure positions in first-class teams at once preferred to remain and help Manager Watkins out. I think the management will now be able to secure a pitcher in place of McHale, and then we can show the other clubs they are not in it."

It was decided at yesterday's meeting to drop Lincoln instead of Denver, as the latter is a good ball town. Several of Lincoln's players will go to Omaha, which team will be captained by Dave Rowe, the man who in reality brought about the troubles in the old association. The Herald's Minneapolis telegram this afternoon says:

The formal Western association meeting has not yet been held, but there has been a deal of informal conference out of which has been evolved a scheme which seems likely to result in formal endorsement. The plan is for Manager Dave Rowe to bring his Lincoln team to this city and make a tour of it and the remnants of the Minneapolis team a club to represent Minneapolis.

The schedule would then be played out with six clubs, Milwaukee and Lincoln being out. Rowe figures he would win the pennant for Minneapolis and then play a world's championship series with the league champions.
MILWAUKEE GETS IT.
But it looks as if the Association had a secret into the river.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 18.—At the special meeting of the American association held this forenoon the deal admitting Milwaukee to a permanent membership was ratified by an unanimous vote. The following was adopted: "That the application of Milwaukee for membership be accepted with the reservation that the Cincinnati club be retained in full membership, the latter, however, to transfer to Milwaukee to take the residue of the present season. The Cincinnati club is to retain full power in the American association."

President Kramer tendered his resignation as president of the American association, but by a unanimous vote it was rejected.

President Krauthoff Held Up.
DENVER, Colo., Aug. 18.—L. C. Krauthoff, president of the Western baseball association, and John W. Spears, president of the Kansas City club, came into town last night. They have been prowling around the Yellowstone region and met an adventure. To reach some magnificent scenery, it was necessary to undertake a 75-mile stage coach ride. Mr. Krauthoff says the stage was held up by masked men and that they were relieved of $765.

Mooney and Bowen.
ST. LOUIS, Aug. 18.—Mike Mooney, of this city, is ready to accept the offer of Andy Bowen, of New Orleans, for a match. Mooney says: "I will fight Bowen for $1000 a side and the best purse that can be obtained, and I will fight him at his home in New Orleans or anywhere else. I will not only meet Bowen, but will fight any man in the world for $1000 a side and a purse at 133 pounds."

The Bike Record Broken.
SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Aug. 18.—Three new records were made last night on the Springfield bicycle track by W. F. Murphy, of the New York Athletic club. He rode a "pneumatic" and beat all the American records for one mile. His time was 2:23 2/5, beating the American record of 2:24 1/2 seconds.

The massive machinery is now being put in place in the power house on top of the hill, and soon the incline will be finished, when you can ride from the Lyceum to the $150 lots, the Highland Improvement company are selling, in ten minutes. Get your home before the price is advanced. Only $20 cash.

Grand bowery dance at Park Point pavilion, Wednesday evening, Aug. 19. The Mary Mann will leave the St. Paul & Duluth ship at 8 p. m. and street cars will run every half hour, leaving the canal at 7 p. m.

HAVE you seen New Duluth lately? If you have not, there is a surprise in store for you which you can gratify by calling for a Ticket at our office. Let us enumerate a few of the things New Duluth has accomplished since it sprang from a wilderness nine months ago; then compare this with any other new place at the head of the lakes:

EIGHT Manufacturing Plants are secured. Some are in operation, others in course of construction. In all they will employ 1500 men.

THE BUILDINGS of these manufactories will cover fully 10 acres of ground. Nearly all of them are built of brick and stone.

A CENSUS recently taken showed 600 bona fide residents of New Duluth.

HOUSES for all of these have been built and new ones are being erected as fast as workmen can do it.

A DEPOT to cost $2500 is now under way.

A BANK is about to be established.

TWO CHURCHES are in course of construction.

A LODGE of Knights of Pythias with thirty members has been instituted, and a lodge of Free Masons is being formed.

THE RATE per car for lumber from New Duluth has been reduced from $8.00 to $5.00.

THE RAILROAD track from Duluth to New Duluth is being ballasted the entire way, new rails are being laid and several miles of new bridges built, in order to secure fast time for the new suburban trains.

THESE are but a few points. To get an adequate idea you must visit the place. These points may show the careful investor, however, that New Duluth investments are safe. Those who know are convinced that they are profitable as well.
